

1		TABLE OF CONTENTS
2	I.	JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURE
3	1.
4	II.	BACKGROUND 3
4		A. The Formation of "Filiberto's"
5		<ul> <li>B. The Arrests and Federal Criminal Charges</li></ul>
6		D. The Defense Team
7		E. The Sale of the Trademark
7		F.       Leasco Formed       9         G.       The Breakdown       10
8		H. The Lawsuits
9	III.	THE PARTIES' LEGAL RELATIONSHIPS 11
10		A. "Filiberto's"The Trademark, Trade Name, Logos, Recipes
11		and Operational Uniformity12B.The Promissory Note13
12		C. The License Agreements
		D.The Agency Agreement16E.Attorney-Client17
13	IV.	ACTIONS BETWEEN THE PARTIES BASED UPON THEIR
14	1	LEGAL RELATIONSHIPS
15		A. The License Agreements
		B. The Agency Agreement
16		1.An Agent's Legal Responsibilities202.The Defense Team22
17		3. Confusion Reigns and Chaos Runs Rampant
18		a. In general
		c. \\Piskulich's Attempts to Prop Up Her Duties as the 19		d. Pistulich's Accountings
20		4. Analyzing the Difference
21		a.       Reclassified wages       30         b.       Manafield Collins' Attorneys' Fees       30
		C Miscellaneous
22		d. Piskulich's Agent's Fee
23	$\langle$	$\begin{array}{c} (1) \\ (2) \\ (2) \\ (2) \\ (2) \\ (3) \\$
24	Y	ConclusionProper Credit for Note Payments
		1. Who were Collins' clients?
25		7. The Transaction Involving the Sale of the Trademark: Was it Legal Malpractice?
26	$\backslash$	Was it Legal Malpractice?383.Breach of Contract: Did Collins Earn \$494,614.11?40
		-
	h:\wp\or	ers\leascomemdec

1	a. Collins' Legal Responsibilities and Contracts With Clients 41
2	b.Conclusion44D.The Promissory Note - What Amount is Now Due?441.Tortious Interference With Contractual Relations45
3	1.       Forhous interference with Contractual Relations       43         2.       Other Adjustments       46
4	V. INJUNCTIVE RELIEF AGAINST "ROGUE" RESTAURANTS
5	A.Arizona Restaurants51B.California Restaurants55
6 7	VI. OTHER LEGAL THEORIES PRESENTED BY THE PARTIES 55
8	VII. SUMMARY OF RULING
9
10 11 12
13 14
15
16
17
18 19 20
21 22
22
24	$\gamma  \swarrow  \checkmark$
25	$\land \land \land$
26
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1	The trial in these con	nsolidated and removed	adversary proceedings was held over a period of	f
2	several months in 2004 on the follow	wing dates:
3
4	April 12	May 5	June 14
5	April 13	May 6	June 15
6	April 14	May 7	June 16
7	April 16	June 8	June 17
8	May 4	June 9
9
10	After taking the matter under advise	ement once the post-filing	g briefing ended with the filing of the last brief on	l
11	August 2, 2004, the court now issue	es its ruling. The matters	settled by this ruling will enable the Chapter 11
12	proceeding to move forward.		$\langle \gamma \rangle \langle \gamma \rangle$
13			$\searrow$
	I. JURISDICTION AND P
14		NUCLUCIA	$\langle \gamma \rangle$
14 15		ROCEDER	$\sum$
15	The parties have co		Bure and jurisdiction of this court as to all matters.
15 16		ncented to both the proce	dure and jurisdiction of this court as to all matters. rt were either core proceedings or were non-core
15 16 17		nsented to both the proce that were tried to the cou	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core
15 16 17 18	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "	ncented to both the proce that were tried to the cou related to" jurisdiction.	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core
15 16 17 18 19	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had " Additionally, the pa	that were tried to the course that were tried to the course lated to "jurisdiction. 2 artics removed several ca	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2).
15 16 17 18 19 20	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "Additionally, the pa deciding all necessary issues, and we	nsented to both the proce that were tried to the cou related to" jurisdiction. 2 artres removed several ca nich helps the parties in a	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2). ases from other courts, which aided the court in
<ol> <li>15</li> <li>16</li> <li>17</li> <li>18</li> <li>19</li> <li>20</li> <li>21</li> </ol>	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "Additionally, the pa deciding all necessary issues, and we	that were tried to the course that were tried to the course artres removed several can hich helps the parties in a has eliminated the possib	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2). ases from other courts, which aided the court in ccomplishing a comprehensive resolution of their ility of inconsistent results, lengthy delays, and the
<ol> <li>15</li> <li>16</li> <li>17</li> <li>18</li> <li>19</li> <li>20</li> <li>21</li> <li>22</li> </ol>	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "Additionally, the pa deciding all necessary issues, and we many disputes. This procedural step	that were tried to the course that were tried to the course artres removed several can hich helps the parties in a has eliminated the possib	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2). ases from other courts, which aided the court in ccomplishing a comprehensive resolution of their ility of inconsistent results, lengthy delays, and the
<ol> <li>15</li> <li>16</li> <li>17</li> <li>18</li> <li>19</li> <li>20</li> <li>21</li> <li>22</li> <li>23</li> </ol>	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "Additionally, the pa deciding all necessary issues, and we many disputes. This procedural step	that were tried to the course that were tried to the course artres removed several can hich helps the parties in a has eliminated the possib	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2). ases from other courts, which aided the court in ccomplishing a comprehensive resolution of their ility of inconsistent results, lengthy delays, and the
<ol> <li>15</li> <li>16</li> <li>17</li> <li>18</li> <li>19</li> <li>20</li> <li>21</li> <li>22</li> <li>23</li> <li>24</li> </ol>	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "Additionally, the pa deciding all necessary issues, and we many disputes. This procedural step	that were tried to the course that were tried to the course artres removed several can hich helps the parties in a has eliminated the possib	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2). ases from other courts, which aided the court in ccomplishing a comprehensive resolution of their ility of inconsistent results, lengthy delays, and the
<ol> <li>15</li> <li>16</li> <li>17</li> <li>18</li> <li>19</li> <li>20</li> <li>21</li> <li>22</li> <li>23</li> <li>24</li> <li>25</li> </ol>	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "Additionally, the pa deciding all necessary issues, and we many disputes. This procedural step	that were tried to the course that were tried to the course artres removed several can hich helps the parties in a has eliminated the possib	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2). ases from other courts, which aided the court in ccomplishing a comprehensive resolution of their ility of inconsistent results, lengthy delays, and the
<ol> <li>15</li> <li>16</li> <li>17</li> <li>18</li> <li>19</li> <li>20</li> <li>21</li> <li>22</li> <li>23</li> <li>24</li> </ol>	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "Additionally, the pa deciding all necessary issues, and we many disputes. This procedural step	that were tried to the course that were tried to the course artres removed several can hich helps the parties in a has eliminated the possib	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2). ases from other courts, which aided the court in ccomplishing a comprehensive resolution of their ility of inconsistent results, lengthy delays, and the
<ol> <li>15</li> <li>16</li> <li>17</li> <li>18</li> <li>19</li> <li>20</li> <li>21</li> <li>22</li> <li>23</li> <li>24</li> <li>25</li> </ol>	The court also notes that the matters matters over which the court had "Additionally, the pa deciding all necessary issues, and we many disputes. This procedural step	that were tried to the course that were tried to the course artres removed several can hich helps the parties in a has eliminated the possib	rt were either core proceedings or were non-core 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334; 157(b)(1), (2). ases from other courts, which aided the court in ccomplishing a comprehensive resolution of their ility of inconsistent results, lengthy delays, and the

1	The parties affected by this decision are only those who have appeared herein, and no others. <sup>1</sup>
2	Those appearing were:
3	Flavio Tenorio Filiberto Tenorio
4 5	Francisco Tenorio Aurelio Tenorio Juan Tenorio
6	Araceli Tenorio
7	Santa Domingo & Company, Inc. Raul Rios
8	Martha Rios Jorge Tenorio Adelaida Tenorio
9	Sergio Tenorio Ana Elizabeth Tenorio
10	Jorge Quintero Irma Quintero
11	Leasco, Inc.
12	Leasco Holdings, Inc.
13	Ivana Piskulich Mansfield Collins
14	II. BACKGROUND
15 16	II. BACKOROUND
10	The various claims by and between the parties arise out of a dispute over who, or what entity,
17	owns the trademark to the name "Filiberto's," as well as to its related marks, logos, recipes, menus, goodwill,
10	and operational methods. Filiberto's is a chain of Mexican food restaurants located in Arizona and California.
20	Associated with that dispute is whether payments on the Promissory Note which was given for
21	the sale of the trademark have been prade or justifiably withheld. This court has been asked to determine the
22	amount currently due thereon, if any, and to adjudge an appropriate legal remedy, including recision of the sale
23	transaction itself.
24	$\langle \langle \langle \rangle \rangle$
25
26	To the extent that rulings are made which may appear to also affect others, the parties should limit the judgment to only those parties who actually appeared.
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 3

Also at issue is Leasco's claim against numerous parties for the tort of interference with 1 2 contractual relations, as well as issues alleging trademark infringement and breach of contract regarding payment 3 of licensing fees.

Finally, individual parties, Mansfield Collins ("Collins") and Ivania Piskulich ("Piskulich"), have 4 claims for, or seek ratification of, attorneys' or agent's fees, which are defended on theories of breach of 5 contract, professional malpractice, and breach of fiduciary duty. In addition, affirmative relief is sought against 6 7 Collins and Piskulich for judgment for improper payments allegedly made to thep

All of these inter-related matters were heard and are now decided. The court's Findings of Fact 8 and Conclusions of Law are set forth hereafter pursuant to FED.R.BAXX.P. 7052.

10

11

12

26

9

A.

The Formation of "Filiberto's"

In 1974, Flavio Tenorio ("Flavio"), noved from Santo Domingo, Mexico to the United States. 13 Flavio is the oldest of thirteen siblings. That some year, his sister, Martha Rios ("Martha"), also immigrated to 14 America. 15

Over time, Flavio and Martha were joined by ther siblings, most notably brothers Francisco, 16 Aurelio, and Filiberto. Together, these four brothers (collectively, the "Tenorio Brothers"), became involved 17 in the restaurant business, first as employees of others, but eventually started their own restaurant chain, each 18 of which bore the name "Filiberto's," One by one, the chain expanded to include brothers, sisters, extended 19 20 family, and friends as part of the aggregation of restaurants, which now number approximately thirty-one. (See Ex. 100.) Most of the restaurants have been established in Arizona, but five restaurants are scattered throughout 21 22 the San Diego area

In 1988, Juan Tenorio ("Juan"), one of the Tenorio Brothers' siblings, moved to Arizona and 23 opened the first "Filiberto's" restaurant in that state. On September 17, 1993, Juan registered the trade name 24 25

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

with the Arizona Secretary of State (Ex. 8; D-144). He utilized his accountant, Ben Guerra, as the agent for the restaurant organization. Mr. Guerra claimed no ownership interest in the trade name and is now deceased.
 (See Ex. 141.) Guerra's estate likewise claims no interest in the trade name.

In 1994, Martha also moved to Arizona, and she too became the operator of a Filiberto's restaurant.

The restaurants were profitable. The organization of the restaurant ehain's operation was 6 informal and unorthodox, unmarred by the formalities of any legal structure. The chain loosely operated in a 7 manner which most closely approximates a joint venture or joint enterprise. Eccations were jointly selected by 8 the Tenorio Brothers, who would then decide which loyal sibling, relative, or friend was deserving of the 9 management of each new Filiberto's restaurant. One of the Tenorio Brothers, usually Flavip, would negotiate 10 leases with various landlords for the physical premises, as well as obtain equipment and rendor contracts. Once 11 a person or persons was handed the keys to a new location, that person would pay, monthly, a sum of money 12 to the Tenorio Brothers. This monetary tribute was called "la renta," The amount paid each month would vary, 13 but the testimony indicated that an average of $7,000 - 8,000 per month, ber location, was approximately the 14 amount received by the Tenorio Brothers. No written documents governed this enterprise. Each operator 15 understood and complied with this established procedure. The Tenorio Brothers would inspect and oversee 16 the restaurants' operations, and counsel the managers as various problems or questions emerged. 17 In this fashion, the restaurants operated until late 1997. 18 19 20 B. The Arrests and Federal Criminal Charges 21 A September, 1997, the "Filiberto's" restaurants suffered a major setback. By then, 22 pproximately nine of the Tenorio siblings and relations were operating 18 - 20 restaurants. It was at this time 23 that the U.S. Justice Department arrested the four Tenorio Brothers, as well as other siblings or related parties, 24 and charged them with numerous violations of immigration laws, tax fraud, and other felonies. Documents were seized, and the arrests were highly publicized. Their case was filed in the District of Arizona, and assigned to Chief District Court Judge Stephen M. McNamee.

25

The Tenorio Brothers were all placed in jail, awaiting trial. They remained in jail, variously, through October 1998. The new charges were serious, and for three of the four brothers, involved deportment back to Mexico, as well as possible lengthy American prison sentences. The difficulties for the Tenorio Brothers were compounded by previous federal convictions in San Diego for the same types of offenses.

9

10

22

23

24

25

26

4

5

6

7

8

C. Ivania Piskulich Meets Flavio Tenorio

Ivania Piskulich ("Piskulich") is a Certified Public Accountant in Los Argeles. She has been practicing for over 25 years. Her practice niche is with the Rispanic community, and she is well known there.
While in prison, the Tenorio Brothers were given the name of Piskulich as a person who might assist them in the coordination of their legal defenses and courseling concerning associated problems. In February, 1998, Piskulich was invited to talk to the brothers about their legal difficulties.

Piskulich traveled to the butial meeting in February, 1998, meeting with Flavio Tenorio and Aurelio Tenorio in prison in San Bernardino. She was accompanied by an attorney, Mansfield Collins ("Collins"), who at that time was a professional acquaintance. At the meeting, discussion centered around the selection and coordination of a legal defense tearn. The parties agreed on a method by which Piskulich would act as the Tenorio Brothers' agent, and Piskulich prepared, and soon thereafter, on February 17, 1998, the parties executed an "Agency Agreement" (Ex. 3).

D.

1

The Defense Team

2 3 After the Agency Agreement was signed, Piskulich began to coordinate the formation of a defense team for the Tenorio Brothers. In that capacity, the following criminal defense attorneys were hired: 4 5 6 Attorney Fee Representing 7 Filiperto Tenorio Booker Evans, Quarles & $35,000; $15,000 more Brady Streich Lang if tried or case lasted 8 more than one year Francisco Tenorio Thomas Mesereau $35,000; $15,000 mga 9 if tried or case lasted more than one year 10 Cornell Price<sup>2</sup> Flavio Tenorio Unknown 11 Mansfield Collins $10,000 Aurelio Tenorio 12 13 Numerous individual and joint meetings were held to coordinate the defenses, over a period of several months. 14 Other attorneys were also hired, or switched out, to perform other related tasks for the Tenorio Brothers. 15 Finally, on January 20, 2000, the Tenorio Brothers appeared before the Honorable Stephen M. 16 McNamee, Chief, U.S. District Court Judge for the District of Arizona, and entered a guilty plea to various 17 charges (Ex. 61, 71). The penalties were as follows: 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 Frice was fired on March 26, 1998 (Ex. 14). He was replaced by Jennifer L. Keller. (See rough the evidence submitted, it appears that Price was paid $14,696.92 (Ex. 92, 93) and Keller 26 $5,500 (Ex. 92, 93). h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

Party	Prison, including time served	Fines	Deported	Ex.
Francisco Tenorio	13 months	$ 375,110	Yes	61, 71
Filiberto Tenorio	13 months	$ 375,110	Yes	61, 71
Aurelio Tenorio	13 months	$ 375,110	Yes	61, 71
Flavio Tenorio	13 months	$ 375,110	No	61, 71

Three of the Tenorio Brothers were thereafter deported back to Mexico, where they remain to this day.

The Sale of the Trademark

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

23

24

25

26

E.

Between the signing of the Agency Agreement in February and June, 1998, the four Tenorio Brothers decided to sell the "Filiberto's" trade name and related property.

This arrangement was motivated by the Fenorio Brothers' fear that they might lose the 13 restaurants to government seizure or forfeiture, without ever having been able to capitalize on their years of 14 sacrifice and hard work, should they continue to remain in control of the enterprise. They also were seeking a 15 method to pay their defense attorneys and anticipated fines. Navio proposed the sale to Piskulich, and offered 16 to sell the "Filiberto's" mark to her. Although initially reluctant to make an investment of this magnitude, after 17 further discussion, Piskulich agreed to purchase the "Piliberto's" name and proprietary goodwill. The Tenorio 18 Brothers convinced Piskulich that she could pay for the trade name by utilizing the former "la renta" payments 19 to pay each instalment amount. In order to also accommodate the aims of the Agency Agreement, the Tenorio 20 Brothers agreed that Piskulich could credit, against her payments to them, the amounts necessary to pay the 21 defense attorneys under the Agreement. 22

Thus, the concept was that:

Piskulich, or her assignee, would be sold the trademark and, in consideration therefor, pay the Tenorio Brothers $2.5 million, plus interest, in monthly instalments;

1	2. As owner of the Filiberto's mark and name, Piskulich, or her assignee,
2	would be entitled to collect "la renta," in whatever form;
3	3. From the monthly payments that Piskulich, or her assignee, was
4	required to pay to the Brothers on the Promissory Note, Piskulich was
5	authorized to payas their agent and on their behalftheir obligations
6	incurred for their criminal defense.
7	Piskulich accepted the offer, and executed, on behalf of "Leasco, Jpc.," a corporation which she
8	then formed, a Promissory Note for $2.5 million (Ex. 16). Collins drafted the note for Piskulich and Leasco,
9	and also incorporated Leasco and acted as both her attorney, individually, and as attorney on behalf of Leasco,
10	Inc.
11	Despite the Tenorios' pleas to the contrary, the court finds this transaction to have been at arms-
12	length, for valid consideration, without fraud or the exercise of undue influence. Indeciding upon the purchase
13	price, to be paid with interest at 12% per annum. the court finds the negotiated price to have been a fair one.
14	A meeting was thereafter setup with the various restaurant operators, on June 10, 1998, at
15	which Flavio was present. <sup>3</sup> He explained that the trade name had been sold to Piskulich, and that the payments,
16	formerly known as "la renta," would be restructured and paid to Leasco, under written license agreements, on
17	a sliding 3% to 6% of each restaurant's gross each month. (See, e.g., Ex. 18.)
18
19	F. Leasco Formed
20
21	Leasco, Inc. was then formed two days after the meeting with the restaurant operators, on June
22	12, 1998 (Ex. 17, D-3). Piskulich testified that Collins did the legal work for this endeavor, and was paid
23	$4,500 for his effort (Ex. 24).
24
25
26	Flavio was released on bail.
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 9

1 2

3

4

5

6

7

Later, in 1999, Collins wound down his practice and went to work full-time as Leasco's General Counsel. He has been an officer of Leasco since its inception. (Collins Deposition; August 28, 2003, 43:9-14.) Sometime after Leasco was formed, Collins and Piskulich developed an intimate personal relationship as well, which remains to this day. In early 2000, the pair began living together.

G. The Breakdown

8 From 1998 through mid-2002, the Leasco operation proceeded relatively smoothly. Leasco 9 developed a uniform recipe book and a sanitation manual for the restaurants (Ex. D-44, D-45, D-46), actively 10 promoted the brand (see, e.g., Ex. D-157), collected licensing tees held regular meetings with operator-11 managers, and hired Filiberto and Francisco Tenorio, upon their release from prison and until their deportation, 12 as employees to assist in quality-control inspections.

But by mid-2002, the operators became restive Prompted by the Tenorio Brothers' complaints about not receiving the benefits of their bargan, payments under the Leasco note, and the Tenorio Brothers' campaign to convince the operator-managers to withhold their payments under the Leasco licensing agreements, the operators began to refuse to pay ficense fees each month. In addition, the Tenorio Brothers began asserting that they "wanted their family name back." Translated, this meant that the Tenorio Brothers wanted, once again, to exercise complete control over the Filiberto's restaurants, the trademark and trade name, and to effectively freeze out Leasco.

Additionally, under the banner held aloft by Juan and Flavio Tenorio, new restaurants were opened using the name and identifying marks of "Filiberto's," in at least four new locations in Arizona. These individuals also created a new corporation, called Santo Domingo Corporation, which operated and owned some of the new restaurants. None of these restaurants were authorized by Leasco, and they did not operate pursuant to licensing agreements.

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

25

H. The Lawsuits

1

2 3 This series of events set the parties on a collision course of litigation. Numerous lawsuits were filed in Arizona and California, in both state and federal courts. Claims and counterclaims, both legal and 4 equitable, were asserted against the numerous parties. 5 6 Thus, squeezed for cash flow, and the attendant expenses associated with the many lawsuits, Leasco filed for chapter 11 relief on December 8, 2003. A major reason for the filing was to manage the myriad 7 of litigation in all of its multiple forms. The parties then either removed these actions to this court, dr agreed to 8 be bound by its decisions as to all associated claims. They did so both to expedite a final resolution of their 9 many disputes, and to avoid the possibility of conflicting decisions which would inevitably protract the legal 10 11 proceedings for many years. 12 III. THE PARTIES' LEGAL RELATIONSHIPS 13 14 An analysis of the parties' legal relationships, inter se, requires a closer scrutiny of the facts and 15 law relating to the following: 16 The Agency Agreement-Piskulich's duties to the Tenorio Brothers; 17 1 The Promissory Note--Leaseo's obligation to the Tenorio Brothers; 2. 18 The Trademark Assignment and who or what owns the rights to the mark: 3. 19 20 "Filiberto's;" The License Agreements--operators' obligations to Leasco; 21 4. Collins' contract for legal services; 22 23 Non-licensed restaurants--whether may they operate a "Filiberto's" restaurant. 6. 24 Each will be discussed in turn. 25 26 11 h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

"Filiberto's"--The Trademark, Trade Name, Logos, Recipes, and Operational Uniformity

The overarching issue of the entire controversy stems from the dispute over who or what entity owns the rights to the "Filiberto's" trademark, trade name, and the goodwill connected to the uniformity of the restaurants' business operations. The court, after reviewing the entirety of the evidence, finds and concludes that the owner of this valuable asset is Leasco, Inc.

Leasco acquired the asset by an assignment executed as of July 14, 1998, in recognition of an agreement reached earlier than June 10, 1998 (See Ex. 15). The consideration was Deasco's agreement to pay $2.5 million therefor, plus interest. (Ex. 16.) Although both parties have presented evidence disputing the adequacy of the consideration paid, and have each presented expert testimony thereon<sup>4</sup>, the court, applying Ninth Circuit law, finds that the agreement was negotiated at arms-length and that the value of the asset at the time of sale was $2.5 million. In re Two "S" Corp., 875 F.2d 240 (9th Cir. 1989) (Value of assets, sold at a commercially reasonable sale, is the sales price).

Each of the four Tenorio Brothers were the owners of the trademark, and each executed the 14 Assignment to Leasco (Ex. 15) for valuable and adequate consideration. Although their brother, Juan Tenorio, 15 has claimed to have owned the mark since it was registered in Arizona in September, 1993 (Ex 8, D-144), the 16 17 court finds, from the totality of the evidence submitted, that Juan Tenorio was, at all times, only an agent for the Tenorio Brothers. Juan's own testimony revealed that he "was acting for the entire family" when he registered 18 the mark, has never made a claim against the brothers for any share of the $2.5 million which Leasco agreed 19 20 to pay the Tenorio Brothers, and and not participate in or claim an interest in a 1995 infringement lawsuit against Finally, Juan Tenorio signed one of the June 10, 1998 licensing agreements "Fliberto's."<sup>5</sup> an entity calling itself 21 22 and thereafter made payments thereunder to Leasco. (Ex. 119-A.) Juan's conduct is wholly inconsistent with 23

24
24
24
24
25
25
26
26
27
26
27
28
29
29
29
20 20 21
24
25
26
27
28
29
29
29
20 20 20 21
21
22
24
24
25
26
27
28
29
29
29
20 20 21
21
22
24
25
26
27
28
29
29
20 20 21
21
22
24
24
25
26
27
28
29
29
20 20 21
21
21
22
23
24
24
25
26
27
28
29
20 20 21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
21
<

26

Indeed, Filiberto Tenorio himself signed the verification. (Ex. D-116.)

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

A.

1

2

3

4

5

1	his claim that it is he who owns the trademark. Juan's conduct thus estops him from now claiming to be the
2	owner. Therefore, the court finds and concludes that Juan Tenorio does not own the name or the trademark,
3	or any portion of this asset. This is partly because, as a matter of law, a licensee of a trademark is not, and
4	cannot be, the owner of the trademark. The Ninth Circuit has held that it is a "long settled principle of law that
5	a licensee of a trademark or trade name may not set up any adverse claim in it as against its licensor. Such
6	use as a recognized licensee sets up no rights in that licensee adverse to the terms of the license and the
7	actual circumstances of the use." Pacific Supply Coop. v. Farmers Union Cent. Exch., Inc., 318 F.2d 894,
8	908-09 (9th Cir. 1963) (citing Hicks v. Anchor Packing Co., 16 F.2d 729, 726 (3d Cir. 1926); Medd v.
9	Boyd Wagner, Inc., 132 F. Supp. 399 (D.C. 1955).
10	Regarding the evidence concerning whether the sale of the trademark should be rescinded, the
11	court finds that the evidence presented by the plaintiffs did not prove either a fraud, undue influence, or a ground
12	for recision of the trademark assignment. The court therefore concludes that Leasco is the owner of the
13	"Filiberto's" trademark, trade name, and all of the accompanying goodwill associated therewith.
14	Judgment on this issue will socie the lare.
15
16	B. The Promissory Note
17
18	In consideration for and contemporaneous with the sale of the "Filiberto's" trade name was
19	Leasco's execution of a Promissory Note payable to the "Tenorio Brothers Partnership" for $2,500,000, bearing
20	interest at 12% per annum. (Ex. 5, 16.) Each of the four Tenorio Brothers signed the Assignment. Although
21	the Assignment is dated July 14, 1998, the parties agree that it was actually signed sometime in October, 1998.
22	To further confuse matters, the parties then acknowledge that the operative date should have been "June,"
23	instead of July, to coincide with the operators' licensing agreements. The court finds that the Promissory Note,
24	Assignment of Trademark, June 10, 1998 Licensing Agreements, and formation of Leasco were all intended
25	to be executed contemporaneously and that such was the effect.
26

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

Ш

The Promissory Note bears the date of "September, 1998." (Ex. 16.) The note contained no 1 2 acceleration clause, no attorneys' fees provision, and no retained security interest in the asset which was sold. 3 The first payment was due September 1, 1998 in the amount of $25,000 principal, and a like $25,000 principal payment was due each month thereafter, together with accrued interest, until paid.<sup>6</sup> 4 5 As noted above, the note was not secured by a security interest in the trademark, no separate security agreement was executed, there was no UCC-1 Financing Statement, or any reference to any collateral 6 whatsoever securing the $2,500,000 obligation was non-existent. Piskulich asserts that, if the licensing payments 7 were not sufficient to pay both principal and interest each month, that she was only required to pay 50% of the 8 collected license sums to the Tenorio Brothers under the Promissory Note. This alleged one agreement is not 9 in writing, and is inadmissable as parolevidence. Even if accepted as true, the interest would still run and would 10 only be deferred. The balance due under the note remains the same. 11 Collins prepared both the note and assignment instruments for Leaso. At the time, he was also 12 representing Aurelio in his criminal matter. At no time did Collins advise Aurelio-his client-as to the impact of 13 the documents which Aurelio was signing for collins' other client, Leasco. Nor did Collins advise Aurelio to 14 obtain separate counsel to review the Assignment and romissory Note, or to otherwise have a professional 15 review the transaction. 16 17 C. The License Agreements 18 19 20 Because it was necessary for Leasco to utilize the license payments in order to make the monthly payments to the Tenprio Brothers, the parties contemplated that each of the participating restaurants would 21 execute "Licensing Agreements" in favor of Leasco, which acknowledged Leasco's ownership of the trademark 22 23 and name, and which provided--in contrast to the non-specific "la renta"-- an easily calculated percentage of 24 25 On a $2.5 million principal balance at 12% per annum, monthly interest alone would be Thus, if a principal reduction of $25,000 was also due each month, the note payments, in the 26 early years of the note, would run at approximately $50,000 per month, or $600,000 per year.

 $h:\wp\orders\leascomendec$

gross sales to be paid monthly to Leasco. The operators executed, on June 10, 1998, or from time to time thereafter, such license agreements. This arrangement was encouraged by the Tenorio Brothers, whose spokesman at the June 10, 1998 operators' meeting was Flavio Tenorio.

On June 10, 1998, most of the individual operators of the numerous Arizona Filiberto's restaurants, at a meeting with Piskulichand Collins, executed "Trademark Licensing Agreements" acknowledging Leasco's ownership of the mark, "Filiberto's Mexican Food," together with its goodwill. The trademark was licensed to each restaurant for a 10-year term, with license fee payments to be made monthly on a siding scale of from 3 - 6% of gross income. The licensing agreements placed in evidence were executed by:

9			$\approx$
10	Signator	Store No.	Exhibit
11	Juan Tenorio	$\square \land \land \land$	Ø-7
12	Isidro Araiza	 	D-17
13	Alfredo Almanzo		) D-17
14	Raul Rios		18
15	Ricardo Araiza	5	D-17
	Matias Quintero	 	D-17
16	Jorge Santiallanes	8	D-17
17	Ana Mendoza	9	D-17
18	Jorge Teporio	10	D-17
19	Juan Castro	13	D-17
20	Armando Marcallas	14	D-17, D-167
21	Deonardo Alvarado	15	D-17
22

Two days after the meeting, on June 12, 1998, Leasco, Inc. filed its Articles of Incorporation with the California Secretary of State. Collins signed the Articles as Incorporator, and Piskulich was its initial

23

26

-D, see, also, Ex. 8, D-7.)

agent. (Ex. 17, D-3.) Collins was Leasco's attorney for this purpose, and was paid $4,500 for such services 1  $(Ex. 24).^{7}$ 2 3 Thereafter, the individual operators commenced making contractual payments<sup>8</sup> to Leasco, until later prodding from the Tenorio Brothers caused them to stop doing so. (See Section IV.D.1. of 4 this Memorandum Decision.) 5 Thus, the intention of the parties to the note was that the operators would pay monthly 6 percentages of gross sales to Leasco. In this fashion, Leasco would then have the cash flow required to make 7 its $25,000 monthly payments, plus interest, to the Tenorio Brothers on the $2.5 million note, until was paid. 8 9 D. The Agency Agreement 10 11 As noted above, the Agency Agreement was between the four Tenorio Brothers and Piskulich, 12 individually, and they employed her as their agent for the purpose of selecting attorneys and coordinating 13 payment of the legal fees arising solely out of the Arizona criminal action or matters closely related thereto. 14 (Ex. 3, numbered paragraphs 2, 3; para. 2 of the recitals). For this service, Piskulich was to receive a 15 "reasonable" compensation. That agreement was signed four months before the trademark sale took place. 16 From the evidence submitted, the court finds and concludes that the Tenorio Brothers gave 17 permission for Piskulich, in her individual capacity and as agent during the criminal proceedings, to utilize the note 18 payment amounts, coming to them from the Leasco monthly payments, to pay their attorneys and attendant 19 20 expenses. This was the intention of the parties, as clearly set forth in the written Agency Agreement. 21 22 Sollins' testimony was that the $4,500 represented an incorporation that he allegedly did for 23 Aurelio Terrorio. However, this testimony is not credible, in view of the proximity of the payment to the Leasco incorporation and that no other evidence was produced to show that Aurelio ever set up another 24 corporation from his prison cell. 25 Those contractual payments replaced the former, loosely-managed "la renta" payments 26 made to the Tenorio Brothers. 16 h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1	So long as the attorneys were paid for the criminal action, as well as "any employee
2	necessary to accomplish the purposes of the Agency," the Tenorio Brothers agreed that the monies coming to
3	them from the Promissory Note funds could be used for such purposes. However, if Piskulich's authority was
4	exceeded, or the Agency Agreement was breached, then Piskulich would have legal liability to the Tenorio
5	Brothers. That issue will be discussed in Section IV.B. of this Memorandum Decision.
6	To pay for their criminal defense, the Tenorio Brothers agreed that Piskulich could use their
7	Promissory Note payments each month to do so. Piskulich began the defense fund pool with $60,000 received
8	from the wives of Aurelio and Flavio Tenorio. The attorneys were then hired to conduct the Tenorio Brothers'
9	criminal defense.
10	The legal issue to be addressed and resolved in this litigation is did Piskalich breach the Agency
11	Agreement? If so, what is the Tenorio Brothers' legal remedy?
12
13	E. Attorney-Client
14
15	The finallegal relationship at issue in this case concerns attorney Mansfield Collins. As attorney,
16	Collins represented Aurelio Tenorio in the Arizona eriminal action; Ivania Piskulich in the preparation of the
17	Agency Agreement; Ivania Piskulich and Leasevin the trademark sale; Leasco in actions against the operators
18	over licensing disputes; and Flavio or the other Tenorio Brothers for various small legal matters.
19	While theirs was certainly not a legal relationship, Collins undertook most of these various and
20	continuing attorney-client representations while he and Piskulich were carrying on an intimate personal
21	relationship and ultimately began living together.
22	Under California law, an attorney's responsibilities and duties to his client are ones of trust,
23	confidence, competence, zealous representation, loyalty, and the avoidance of conflicts of interest. "A violation
24	of the Rules of Rrofessional Conduct subjects an attorney to disciplinary proceedings, but does not in itself
25	provide a basis for civil liability." BGJ Assoc., LLC v. Wilson, 7 Cal. Rptr. 3d. 140, 147 (2003), citing Noble
26	V. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 33 Cal. App. 3d 654, 658, 109 Cal. Rptr. 269 (1973). "But the rules, 'together with

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

Ш

1	statutes and general principles relating to other fiduciary relationships, all help define the duty component of the
2	fiduciary duty which the attorney owes to his or her client." Id., citing David Welch Co. v. Erskine & Tulley,
3	203 Cal. App. 3d 884, 890, 250 Cal. Rptr. 399 (1988). It is settled that "'[t]he relation between attorney and
4	client is a fiduciary relation of the very highest character and binds the attorney to the most conscientious fidelity-
5	-uberrima fides." Pavicich v. Santucci, 102 Cal. Rptr. 2d 125, 137 (2000), citing 1 Witkin, Cal. Procedure
6	(4th ed. 1996) Attorneys § 118, p. 155, quoting Cox v. Delmas, 99 Cal. 104, 123, 33 P. 836 (1893).
7	Thus, the legal issues to be decided, in this case, are whether Collins committed legal
8	malpractice or breached his contract or contracts with any of the Tenorio Brothers.
9
10	IV. ACTIONS BETWEEN THE PARTIES BASED UPON THEIR
11	LEGAL RELATIONSHIPS
12
13	Having described the nature of each legal relationship between the various parties to this
14	litigation, it now falls to the court to decide whether legal liability flows from the conduct of the parties, and if,
15	so, to determine appropriate remedies in order to achieve just results.
16
17	A. The License Agreements
18
19	The court first addresses the liability of the parties under the License Agreements.
20	Most of the various individuals who operate the numerous "Filiberto's" restaurants are using its
21	logos, merus, recipes, operational handbook, and methods pursuant to written licensing agreements. The
22	majority of those agreements were executed on June 10, 1998. Several others were executed at later dates.
23	These contracts established the legal relationship between those parties. In addition to those parties who signed
24	licensing agreements on June 10, 1998, the evidence showed that additional licensees, post-June 10, 1998,
25	were:
26
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 18

Date	Name	Location
8/01/2000	Jorge Quintero Uribe	735 E. Fry, Sierra Vista
3/05/2000	Jose Quintero	735 E. Fry, Sierra Vista
11/04/1999	Leasco Holdings, Inc.	Unspecified
3/05/2001	Novoa Investments, LLC	Unspecified
4/10/2001	Aguilar Bros. Co., LLC	1250 W. Broadway, Tempe

Simply, in exchange for the use of the trademarked property, and the procedures associated therewith, the operators agreed to pay Leasco a percentage of their gross profits each month.

Between March and June 30, 2002, through the wrongful influence of Juan Tenorio and Flavio Tenorio, who were acting for the four Tenorio Brothers, many of these operators elected to cease making payments to Leasco, based principally on the Tenorio Brothers' representation that Leasco did not own the mark, and that the Tenorio Brothers did. Each operator's decision to stop making license payments was made unilaterally, without a court's judgment as to whether the Tenorio Brothers' pepresentations were legally correct. As noted above, the Tenorio Brothers' unilateral assessment of their legal position has now been found to be wholly erroneous regarding the ownership of the "Filiberto's trademark.

Each licensing contract provides for a method of termination with Leasco, should an operator 17 choose to no longer operate under the "Filiberto", banner. Each licensee can terminate upon the giving of a 18 180-day notice to Leasco. (See, e.g., para. 10 of Ex. D-17.) Should Leasco desire to terminate a licensee, 19 it may do so within 14 days after giving that person or entity written notice. (See, e.g., para. 6 of Ex. D-17.) Nowhere do the licensing agreements provide that a licensee may unilaterally stop paying and continue to use the trademark and other proprietary rights which all licensees had acknowledged to be the property of Leasco 22 second paragraph of recitals, p. 1, Ex. D-17).

The alguments of the licensee operators as to their reason for not paying do not rise to the level 24 of a justifiable or legal reason for them to have simply stopped making payments and to have simultaneously 25 ppropriated the trademark and accompanying property rights to their own use. 26

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

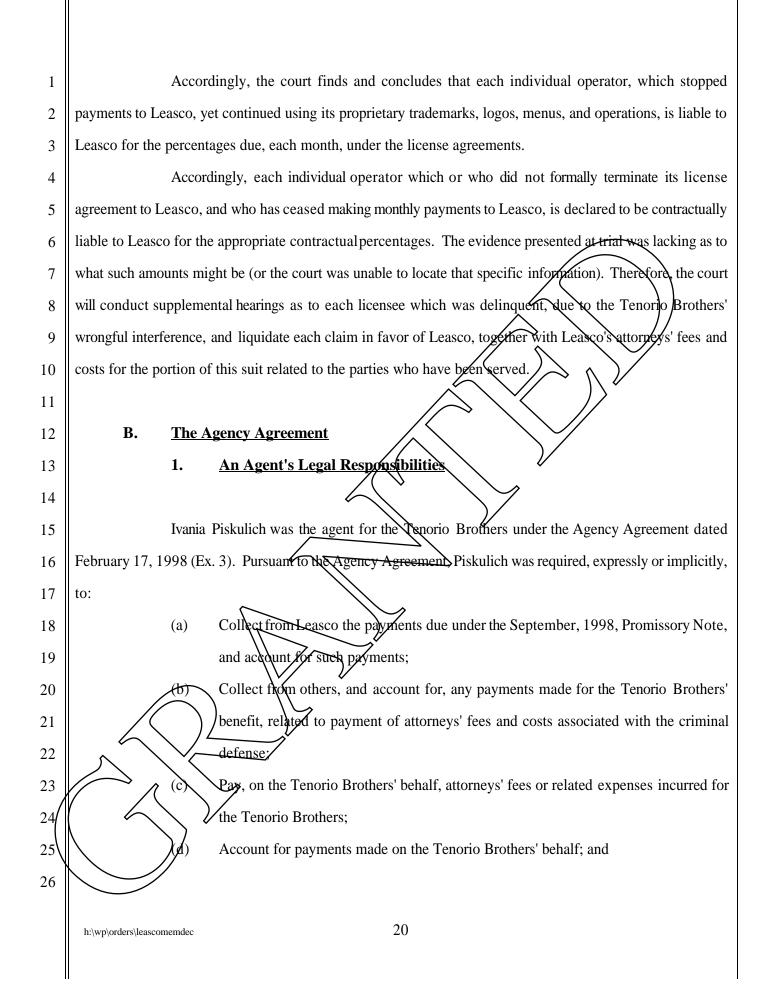

14

15

16

20

21

(e) Not misappropriate any of the Leasco or third party payments, or improperly pay the same.

2 3

1

3 The parties contracted in California, and California law governs their relationship. In California, an agent is a fiduciary with the same obligations of diligence and faithful service as a trustee, and thus must make 4 the fullest disclosure of all material facts that might affect her principal's decision making. Additionally, an agent 5 is bound to use reasonable care, skill, and diligence in the performance of the object of the agency, and is under 6 a duty not to compete with her principal on matters connected with the agency. If the agence breaches her 7 fiduciary duty, she must give the principal the benefit of his bargain and place him, insofar as possible, in the 8 same position he would have enjoyed had the duty been performed. QXL.CIV.CODE \$3333. "An agent is a 9 fiduciary with the same obligations of diligence and faithful service as a trustee Połacky/Lytel, 120 Cal. 10 App. 3d 931, 940, 175 Cal. Rptr. 81 (1981), citing CAL.CV CODE \$2322, sub d. 3; / Cutler v. State Bar of 11 Cal., 71 Cal.2d 241, 251, 78 Cal. Rptr.172, 455 P.2d 108 (1969). "Accordingly, an agent must make the 12 fullest disclosure of all material facts which might affect his principal's decision making." Id., citing Wyatt v. 13 Union Mortgage Co., 24 Cal.3d 773, 782, 457 Cal. Rptr.392, 598 P.2d 45 (1979); Smith v. Zak (1971) 14 20 Cal. App.3d 785, 793, 98 Cal. Rptr.242 (1971). No addition, an agent is bound to use reasonable care, 15 skill and diligence in the performance of the object of the agency." Id., citing CALLAB.CODE §§ 2858, 2859; 16 Stiefel v. McKee (1969) 1 Cal. App. 3d 263, 266, 81 CalRptr. 565 (1969). "Finally, an agent is under a duty 17 not to compete with his principal on matters connected with the agency." Id, citing Realty Co. of America v. 18 Burton, 160 Cal. App. 2d 178, 191, 325 R 2d 171 (1958); RESTATEMENT (SECOND) AGENCY § 393. 19 20 CALCIV.CODE \$2322(c) holds an agent to the same standards as a trustee. In California, statutes require that trustee keep trust property separate from other property not subject to the trust, CAL. 21 22 PROB. CODES 10009(a), that a trustee not use or deal with trust property for the trustee's own profit or for any other purposes unconnected with the trust, nor to take part in any transaction in which the trustee has an interest 23 adverse to the beneficiaries. CAL. PROB.CODE § 16004(a). As for her duty of loyalty, a trustee must 24 $25\sqrt{1}$  administer the trust solely in the interest of the beneficiaries.

26

 $h:\wp\orders\leascomendec$

1 2

2. The Defense Team

3 On February 17, 1998, Flavio Tenorio, "for all of the Brothers," executed an Agency Agreement with Piskulich. (Ex. 3). Her duties were to select attorneys who would represent the four brothers in the 4 Arizona criminal action, and to coordinate the payments to those attorneys. (Ex. 3.) Her compensation was 5 to be at a "reasonable" rate. (Ex. 3, para. 4.) Piskulich testified to having a "verbal" agreement of $150 per 6 hour, but the writing does not discuss any such hourly arrangement. That same day, Piskulich received a 7 $60,000 initial deposit to the defense fund, $30,000 each from the wives of Flavio and Aurelio Tenorio/(Ex. 44). 8 Thereafter, on February 19, 1998, Mansfield Collins was selected by Piskulich to represent 9 Aurelio Tenorio in the pending Arizona criminal case for a fee of $10,000. Collins wrote that his fee "includes 10 a jury trial, if necessary, but does not include any appeal." (Ex 4.) Paragraph 3 of the retention letter noted 11 that "should additional fees be necessary, both parties agree to decide in good faith, the required amount." No 12 evidence was provided by Collins of any such later regotiation and no writing exists to show that Aurelio agreed 13 to more. 14 On February 24, 1998, attorney Book Evans of Phoenix was selected to represent Filiberto 15 Tenorio in the same criminal case. His tee was $35,000, plus an additional $15,000 if the matter either 16 17 proceeded to trial or lasted longer than one year. (Ex. 7.) Eventually the firm's duties expanded and other attorneys in the firm began providing other legal services to the four Tenorio Brothers. 18 On March 3, 1998, autorney Thomas A. Mesereau, Jr., was retained on behalf of Francisco 19 20 Tenorio. (Ex. 10.) His fee was also $35,000, with an additional $15,000 to be paid if the matter proceeded to trial. Mr. Mesereau's letter, like Collins', contained a statement that if additional fees were necessary, both 21 parties would decide, "in good faith," what such fees should be. There was no provision as to what event or 22 circumstances would necessitate any request for additional fees, or what standards would apply to determine 23 such additional amount. 24 25 26 22 h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1	Also, by March 26, Piskulich procured the criminal defense services of attorney Cornell J. Price,
2	on behalf of Flavio Tenorio. (See Ex. 11, 12.) He was eventually replaced, as Flavio's criminal defense
3	attorney. (Ex. 14.) Jennifer Keller was chosen to replace him. <sup>9</sup> (See Ex. 71.)
4	Once the criminal defense attorneys were in place, they began working in a unified effort to
5	coordinate defenses for their clients, the four Tenorio Brothers.
6	Later, attorney Terence Woolston, also with Booker Evans' law firm, was hired for consultation
7	relative to the tax and inter-related commercial issues affecting their client, Filiberto Tenorio. <sup>10</sup> (Ex. 53.) Other
8	attorneys, such as Anthony Bueno, were consulted on immigration questions as well.
9	In the first quarter of 1999, there were many discussions with the United States government
10	concerning the criminal charges against the Tenorio Brothers. Proposed plea agreements were circulated,
11	discussed, and negotiated by each defense attorney, working collaboratively with one another in a joint defense
12	effort. <sup>11</sup> (See, e.g., Ex. 45, D-159.) In one such letter, attorney Woolston (Filiberto's attorney) recommended
13	against a plea proposal. (Ex. 45.) Shortly thereafter, on May 12, 1999, Filiberto terminated Woolston as his
14	attorney for the "tax matters." (Ex. 65.) Booker Evans, with the same firm, stayed on as Aurelio's criminal
15	defense attorney.
16	None of the attorneys listed above, with the exception of Mansfield Collins, have had their fees
17
18	<sup>9</sup> For limited purposes, Collins would also occasionally represent Flavio, performing small
19	administrative tasks for him. See Ex 5, 6. No separate written fee agreements were ever signed for these matters.
20	<sup>10</sup> On September 4, 1998, Collins asked Woolston for tax and business advice concerning a
21	sale of the Tenorio Brothers trademark to a new entity, which new entity might or could involve Piskulich.
22	Woolston's reply letter was cautions and careful, and ultimately advised Piskulich to seek separate counsel. The setter may have contained advice helpful to Woolston's client, Filiberto Tenorio individually, but the
23	letter is equally helpful in its advice to the four Tenorio Brothers, as well as to Piskulich. There is no indication that Woolston had ever been advised, as of the previous June, that the transfer of the trademark
24	had already occurred (Ex. 25.)
25	<sup>11</sup> All of the Tenorio Brothers had previously been convicted for tax under-reporting in the
26	Southern District of California. Thus, the Arizona proceedings were their second brush with the federal criminal system. (Ex. 76.)

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

Ш

challenged in this litigation by the Tenorio Brothers. There is no allegation that payments to attorneys, other than Mansfield Collins, were improper or not contemplated by the Agency Agreement.

3

4

5

The new millennium dawned with a plea agreement and judgment against the four Tenorio Brothers (Ex. 61, 71), Juan Tenorio (Ex. 49), Martha Idalia Rios, and Sergio Tenorio (D-162). The sentences imposed by Chief Judge McNamee were:

6
7	] [	Name	Fine	Probation/Prison
8		Francisco Tenorio	$375,110	13 months prison 3 years probation
9 10		Filiberto Tenorio	$375,110	13 months prison 3 years probation
11		Flavio Tenorio	$375,110	3 years probation
12		Aurelio Tenorio	$375110	13 months prison 3 years probation
13		Juan Tenorio	$24,025	3 years probation
14		Sergio Tenorio	$36,025	5 years probation
15		Martha Idalia Rios	nknown	Unknown
<ol> <li>17</li> <li>18</li> <li>19</li> <li>20</li> <li>21</li> <li>22</li> <li>23</li> <li>24</li> <li>25</li> <li>26</li> </ol>	deported back t remained in the	to Mexico. Flavio, Idalia I United States.		Filiberto, Francisco, and Aurelio re not subject to deportation, and
	h:\wp\orders\leascome	mdec	24

3. Confusion Reigns and Chaos Runs Rampant

In general a.

When looking at the Agency Agreement and Piskulich's duties as agent in a vacuum, the issues are straightforward and simple. But after Piskulich acquired the trademark and began collecting license fees for Leasco, things went haywire.

Almost immediately upon Piskulich's formation of Leasco on June 12, 1998, and its attempts 7 to collect licensee payments, Piskulich began a wholesale mismanagement of her individual duties as the Tenorio 8 9 Brothers' agent, for which duties, it turned out, she was personally and professionally unqualified.

Relying solely upon the advice of her attorney/box friend, Mapsfield Callins, Piskulich quickly 10 began to blur the legal distinctions between herself and Lease and her responsibilities as Leaseo's President and sole shareholder, and her individual duties to the Tenorio Brothers as their agent to manage Leasco's 12 13 payments to them.

The accountings produced by Piskulich, in defense of both the agency action against her 14 individually, and the records concerning Leasco's payments to the Tenorio Brothers, are unprofessional, 15 inadequate, and to a large-degree non-existent. 16

By attempting to wear hats for both Leasco, as payor under the $2.5 million Promissory Note, 17 and as agent for the Tenorio Brothers, the recipients of those same payments, Piskulich placed herself in an 18 irreconcilable conflict of interest with her principals. And, her accountings and actions reflect the tangled results 19 20 of that conflict.

Piskuli¢h continued to try to represent both sides up until these lawsuits began, and apparently 21 has yet to recognize the gross conflict of interest inherent in her dual roles. 22

23 24

25

26

1

2

3

4

5

6

b. Piskulich's Role as President of Leasco

-
2
3	Once Leasco obtained the trademark assignment from the Tenorio Brothers (Ex. 15), Leasco
4	had to find a way to pay on its $2.5 million purchase price (Ex. 15,16). It initially did this by creating a cash
5	flow to Leasco from the licensing of the acquired property to the various individual "Filiberto's" operators. (See,
6	e.g., Ex. D-17.) Leasco also began to expand the "Filiberto's" operations.
7	Piskulich and Collins actively marketed the "Filiberto's" chain, and expanded its stores, gaining
8	new licensees. In November 1999, Leasco begin opening "company stores," the first of which, Leasco
9	Holdings, Inc., executed a licensing agreement on November 4, 1999, Piskulich signed for both Leasco, Inc.
10	and for Leasco Holdings, Inc.
11	On March 5, 2001, another company store was licensed to Novoa Investments, LLC, for a
12	Tucson, Arizona, location. Piskulich signed for both Leasce and Novoa. <sup>12</sup>
13	On March 10, 2000, Leasco hired attorney Ton D. Chen to register the Filiberto's trademark
14	with the U.S. Patent and Trademark office. Mr. Chen sent an application to the federal trademark office. (Ex.
15	72.) The mark was registered in Leasco's name thirteen months later, on April 3, 2001. (Ex. D-162.) On July
16	18, 2000, Leasco applied for authority to transact business in Arizona. Piskulich signed it as President, and
17	Collins signed the application as Vice President Secretary of the corporation (Ex. 27).
18	But all of Piskulich's and Collins' efforts to improve Leasco came at a cost: Piskulich paid scant
19	attention to her duties to the Tenorio Brothers under the Agency Agreement.
20
21	c. Piskulich's Attempts to Prop Up Her Duties as the Tenorio Brothers' Agent
22	Lanorio Brothers Agent
23	By early 2001, Leasco's monthly payments to the Tenorio Brothers of $25,000 plus interest
24	had been seriously lagging and were severely delinquent (Ex. 32), and by the summer of 2001, relations between
25
26	Wilfredo Novoa is Piskulich's brother. He is now Leasco's accountant. Wilfredo may or may not have been a prncipal in Novoa Investments, LLC.
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 26

Leasco and the four Tenorio Brothers had become strained to the breaking point. Acting for the brothers, 1 2 Flavio Tenorio asked Piskulich to explain how she was handling the payments under the Agency Agreement. She responded in writing on June 26, 2001. (Ex. 76, D-43.) She stated that Leasco had "paid you and your 3 brothers approximately $972,290.66" (Ex. 76, D-43), a figure which Piskulich did not justify and, in fact, 4 contradicted at trial. Piskulich also stated that "Leasco has made and continues to make substantial payments 5 on behalf of you and your brothers," including an agreement to pay $1.1 million of a fine to the INS, "from the 6 amounts that Leasco owes you . . . from the sale of the trademark."<sup>13</sup> However, the court has not been 7 furnished with any written agreement in which Leasco had agreed to pay the Tenorio Brothers' criminal fines. 8 The only written agreement between these parties is the Agency Agreement itself, and it is dated February 17, 9 1998 (Ex. 3). That document only refers to the coordination of payments to detense attorneys or to others in 10 11 connection with that defense.

Reading between the lines of this important June 26, 200 Letter and from considering the testimony from the witnesses, it appears that Leasco had stopped paying on the $2.5 million Promissory Note, yet at the same time it was continuing to collect from the owner/operators of the various locations, and Leasco was using those license payments to pay Collins and Piskulich significant amounts of money. At the same time, Piskulich was telling Flavio that Leasco was "doing everything possible to remain financially viable." (Ex. 76, D-43.) She noted that Collins, now Vice-President and General Counsel for Leasco, was assisting it in its negotiations with vendors.

In October, 2001, Piskulich traveled to Tijuana, MX, to review the status of her Agency Agreement with the Tenorio Brothers. It was necessary to meet in Mexico because three of the brothers had been deported. At that meeting, Piskulich presented them with the first "accounting" of payments allegedly made

By the $11 million fine, Piskulich is presumably referring to the $1,500,440 fine levied and allocated against the Denorio Brothers by the District Court. If she was referring to some different assessment, however, that fine or penalty was not included within the evidence. No evidence was offered by Piskulich to know that the $1.5 million in criminal fines has ever been paid in any amount. Also, one year later, on May 30, 2002, Collins wrote Aurelio Tenorio, stating that "Leasco has paid more than $1 million dollars in legal services and to other professionals on yours and your brothers' behalf since 1998." (Ex. 31.)

d. Piskulich's Accountings

As set forth above, Piskulich's duties as the four Tenorio Brothers' agent were clearly spelled out in the Agency Agreement (Ex. 3). As previously explained, Piskulich, as the agent for the Tenorio Brothers under the Agency Agreement, was responsible to hire attorneys and "employees" to accomplish the purpose of the agency. The court finds that this charter also included necessary costs and incidental expenses to accomplish the agency's purpose.

8 The Agency Agreement ran between Piskulich, personally, and each of the four Tenorio 9 Brothers. Yet, when Piskulich presented accountings, she presented them as if Leasco had made the Agency 10 Agreement payments on behalf of the four brothers. But, Leasco had no legal obligation under the Agency 11 Agreement; Leasco's only obligation was to make payments each month under the Promissory Note. (Ex. 16.) 12 Piskulich not only blurred, but obliterated, the legal distinctions between her agent's duties and Leasco, and 13 improperly merged their separate legal responsibilities. She compounded the confusion and error by lavishly 14 favoring her attorney/boyfriend/live-in comparison Mansfield Collins, with unearned fees.

Since Piskulich was the President and sole shareholder of Leasco, she almost immediately 15 became sloppy in recognizing the distinction between who had obligation to the four brothers and what those 16 obligations entailed, and she directed Leasco to make not only the Agency Agreement payments but other 17 payments as well. Exhibits 30, 33, and 33A represent those payments allegedly made on behalf of the four 18 brothers. Its total, for which beased wants credit against its promissory note, contained in Ex. 30, from July, 19 20 1998, through April, 2003, is $798,673.66. Both Piskulich's and Leasco's accountings were atrocious, sloppy, unprofessional, and extremely difficult if not impossible to comprehend. Nonetheless, the Tenorio Brothers 21 22 concede that $338,572 of that amount is not in dispute (Ex. 124, Appendix II to this Memorandum Decision.) that leaves $460,101 of the payments, which were claimed to have been made, still in dispute. 23

24 25

1

2

26

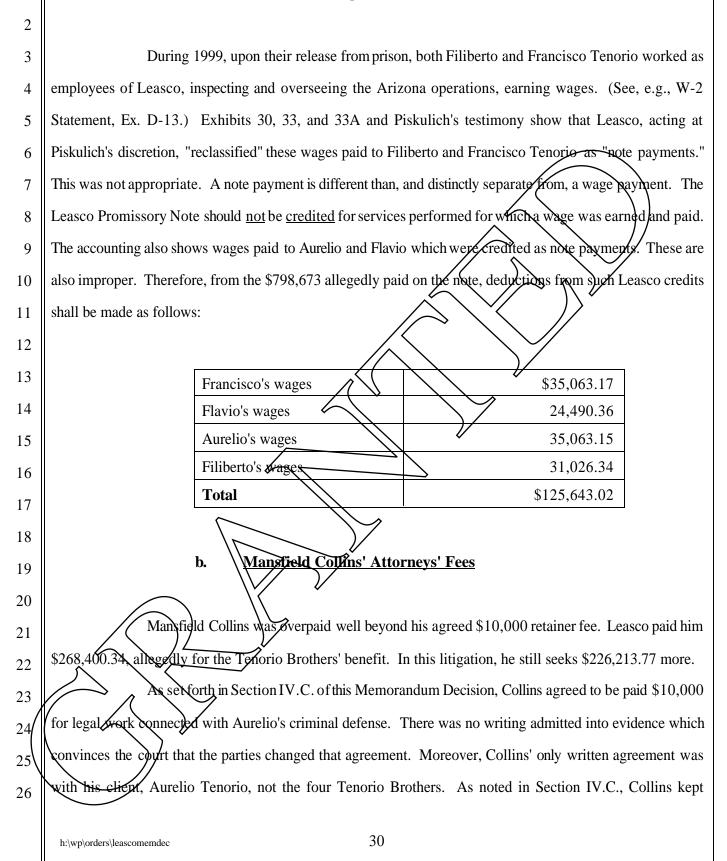

For ease of calculation, the court has omitted cents.

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1	4. Analyzing the Difference
2
3	The dispute between the parties over Leasco's accounting for payments is over the sum of
4	$460,101. Leasco wants credit for $798,673; the Tenorio Brothers only want to credit it for $338,572. The
5	Tenorio Brothers have identified four principal areas of disagreement. They are:
6	a. "Reclassified" wages;
7	b. Mansfield Collins' attorneys' fees;
8	c. Ivania Piskulich's agent's fees; and
9	d. Miscellaneous.
10	Each will be discussed in turn. The evidence produced by Leaseo showed that Riskulich credited payments
11	made under each of these categories as payments made in favor of the Venorios. The Verorio Brothers dispute
12	the benefit received under each category.
13	From December 31, 1998 through July 30, 2003, Leasco received from the individual
14	operators, under the licensing agreements, the sum of $3,045,708.91. (Ex. 46.)
15	Using Leasco's Ex. 30 as the guide to what Piskunch used the licensee payments to pay,
16	allegedly on the brothers' behalf, under her individual duties to them under the Agency Agreement, the court has
17	analyzed each expenditure. Again, Piskulich's duties were to coordinate the payment of legal fees for the 18	brothers in their Arizona criminal case (Ex. 3.) Additionally, she was to "employ any employee" deemed
19	necessary to accomplish this purpose. (Ex. 3.) Listed here is the court's evaluation, taken from all of the facts
20	of this case, as to how she performed her agency in the four categories listed above.
21
22
23	$\sim$
24
25
26	However, other testimony revealed that Leasco had received $3,582,237.01 from its Arizona licensees.
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 29

II

a. Reclassified wages

1	inadequate records of any work performed for Aurelio or th	e four brothers, and did not prove that what he
2	accomplished or failed to accomplish was agreed to be paid for any amount greater than $10,000. The
3	testimony that was produced, in an effort to persuade the court	that the $10,000 was increased to $35,000, was
4	not supported by any document signed by Aurelio (Ex. 13).	Moreover, Piskulich's testimony, as well as other
5	attorneys' testimony (besides Collins), was that this idea was on	ly floated as a proposal by Piskulich, which none
6	of the attorneys accepted. (See Piskulich letter dated Ma	rch 23, 1998, Ex. 13.) Lease paid Collins
7	$268,400.34.
8	Therefore, further reduction from Leasco's claim	imed $798,673.66 shall be the $258,400.34 that
9	Collins received in excess of his agreed-upon $10,000 fee.
10
11	c. Miscellaneous	$\leq$
12
13	The items in the miscellaneous category are for	and mainly in Exhibit 30. In that exhibit, there are
14	a number of other payees whose relationship to the criminal d	lefense was not carefully explained. Therefore,
15	the Tenorio Brothers argue that there is no basis upon which	to allow their payment. These "miscellaneous"
16	items are:	2
17
18	David C. Arnell	$3,487.50
19	Don stapley	2,000.00
20		1,154.48
21	Itzel Williams	1,296.20
22	Bueno and Assoc.	1,500.00
	Mission Lienn/Marko	1,762.50
23	Arboleda Law Firm	3,729.00
24	INS	100.00
25	U.S. Treasury	1,000.00
26	Walker, Ryan	2,476.75
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 31

Wilfredo Novoa	2,124.00
Total	$20,630.43

The court has reviewed each of these expenditures in the context of what Piskulich did accomplish for the Tenorio Brothers under her agency. Neither side adequately explained or completely refuted the need for these items, but the totality of the evidence convinces the court that these expenditures did, in some way, benefit the four Tenorio Brothers. (See, e.g., depositions of Anthony Bueno, Cornell Price, D-173.) Accordingly, they will not be deducted as the Tenorio Brothers request. Piskulich's Agent's Fee d. Piskulich has, in this litigation, asked the equivor ratify payments to her of $70,204.50, and to award her a total fee of $339,967.50 from the Tenoric Brothers (Piskulich Post-Trial Brief.) Payments to her occurred on the following dates:

12/31/98	From Defense Fund account	$40,204.50
7/12/02,	From Leasco on Tenorio Brothers' account	$30,000.00
	Total	$70,204.50

(Ex. I to Ex. 43) The balance still due, Piskulich maintains, is $269,763.50. (Ex. I to Ex. 43.) For their part, the Tenorio Brothers have asked for a judgment against Piskulich for the fees already paid ($70,204.50) and a decharation that they owe nothing further.

The Evidence (1)

2
3	On December 15, 2002, after this litigation had boiled over, Piskulich sent a billing statement
4	to the four Tenorio Brothers. The statement covered services allegedly rendered from February 1, 1998,
5	through July 12, 2002. Piskulich charged an hourly rate of $150, claiming 2,266.45 hours of work, and the total
6	came to $339,967.50. (Ex. I to Ex. 43.) This was the only billing statement ever sent by Piskulich, and it is
7	neither carefully crafted nor itemized. This billing is also suspect because it purports to cover four and one-half
8	years of services, and yet was not prepared from contemporaneous time slips. Many of the entries are sketchy,
9	such as "telephone conference with," with no substantive reference to the nature of, or reason for the call.
10	Piskulich testified that she reconstructed it from miscellaneous paperwork, calendars, etc.)in her possession.
11	Those supporting documents were not submitted as evidence.
12	Additionally, the billing statement upon which Piskulich relies was prepared after the litigation
13	between the parties had commenced, making its rehability doubly suspect.
14	Piskulich also submitted, as part of the case for her fees, some other miscellaneous invoices that
15	either appear to be addressed to other entities, or which seem to be "conduit" billings for others. (Ex. 51.) They
16	do not relate to the Agency Agreement, and are not included within Ex. I to Ex. 43, nor are they at issue in, or
17	relevant to this litigation.
18	The accountings presented by Piskulichto the Tenorio Brothers, in October, 2001, for services
19	from June 1, 1998 to October 20, 2001, for her agent's services, reflect payments received in 1998 and 1999
20	of $10,100 and $5,900, respectively. (Ex. 33, 33A.) These payments total only $16,000 through October 20,
21	2001 and thus belie Piskulich's claim that she earned almost $340,000 pursuant to her agency. By October 20,
22	1999, the criminal case was quickly winding down, ending three months later with Chief Judge McNamee's
23	acceptance of the four Tenorio Brothers' guilty plea on January 20, 2000 (Ex. 71).
24	So, without furnishing any comprehensive accountings, Piskulich now seeks a total of
25	$339,967.50 jointly and severally against the Tenorio Brothers (Piskulich's Post-Trial Brief; Ex. I to Ex. 43), 26
	h·\wp\orders\leascomemdec 33

1

even though, through almost the end of the criminal case, she had collected (without any accounting) only $16,000 from the Tenorio Brothers.

Piskulich has not carried her burden of proof. First, her accountings, submitted to the Tenorio Brothers in October, 2001, reflected payments to her of $16,000 from the inception of her agency. (Ex. 33, 33A.) This was for a period when most--if not all--of the agent's responsibilities had been accomplished.<sup>16</sup> Yet, Piskulich's more "detailed" post-litigation accounting, allegedly prepared on December 15, 2002, and covering four and one-half years, shows that she allegedly spent 2,266 hours, adding up to a bill of $339,967.50. No reasonable explanation was offered at trial to reflect that Piskulich had acted, at all relevant times of her agency, for the four Tenorio Brothers, in a manner which would justify a bill of such magnitude

10In sum, Piskulich's accountings are woefully inadequate, on any number of fronts, to support11any fee of the vast size suggested by this lawsuit. Such a request severely taints her credibility.

13 14

12

(2) Conclusion

When the court applies California law, it concludes that Piskulich breached the Agency 15 Agreement. The amounts of money in excess of Aurelio's agreed $10,000 fee, which Piskulich paid out to 16 Collins, her live-in boyfriend ($258,400.34), and her "reclassification" of wages as note payments, for the benefit 17 of her wholly-owned Leasco corporation ($125,643.02), were egregious breaches of her agent's duties and 18 conflicts of interest. From the inception of the trademark purchase, Piskulich had a clear conflict of interest 19 20 which disabled her ability to rationally separate herself, as agent, from her position as sole shareholder and It/has clearly cost the Tenorio Brothers more to recover these improperly paid amounts 21 President of Leasco. 22 than the $70,204.50 that Piskulion has paid herself as a fee. Thus, the Tenorio Brothers' actual damages are 70,204.50. However, begause California law requires a written contract for recovery of legal fees, and the 23 24 25

The evidence and testimony showed that the various plea agreements were being "wrapped up" in April, 1999, and that they were lodged with the court on April 30, 1999.

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1	Agency Agreement is sil	ent on that subject, reasonable attorneys' fees incu	rred in recovering this $70,204.50
2	are not available to the T	enorio Brothers. WEST'S ANN.CAL.CIV.CODE § 1	1717.
3	To the extent that Piskulich claims that she is still owed $269,763.50 in addition to the
4	$70,204.50 which she has already collected, for a total of $339,967.50, the court finds and concludes that such
5	a fee, under the Agency	Agreement, constitutes an unsustainable act of over	erreaching and is unsupported and
6	unreasonable, and that du	ue to Piskulich's self-dealing and overt conflicts of	interest, her-inability to accurately
7	and timely provide meani	ngful accountings, her overpayments to Collins, a	nd her wrongful reclassification of
8		ts," all for the benefit of both her wholly-owned corr
9		y Agreement. As a consequence, the court finds a	$\langle \langle \langle \rangle \rangle$
10		gency, and that she is owed nothing more.
10		ent will, therefore, be entered for the four Tenorio	Brothers that Piskulich's claim for
11		SMISSED, with prejudice. Moreover, the Tenor	$\sim$ //
12		ally, for the $70,204.50 paid to her as an agent's fe against i iskunen person	any, for the $70,204.30 part to her as an agent site
14
15	e. ConclusionProper Credit for Note Payments
16
17		om all of the foregoing the court finds and conclude	es that the following amounts were
18	improperly paid out by I	Leasco or credited by Leasco as note payments:
19
20	$\bigcirc$	Ex. 30 Leasco claimed note payments	\$798,673.66
21	$(\langle \rangle)$	LESS: Overstated or inappropriate amounts:
22		"Reclassified" wages	(125,643.02)
23	$ \land \land$	Mansfield Collins	(258,400.34)
24	$( \land \lor \lor$	Ivania Piskulich	(70,204.50)
25		Subtotal of inappropriate credits	(454,247.86)
26		Appropriate credit for Leasco payments	$344,425.80
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec	35

1	The court finds (taken from the totality of the evidence), that Leasco made payments which can be properly credited on the $2.5 million Promissory Note, of $344,426.
2
3	Because the Tenorio Brothers' analysis reflects, on Ex. 124 (Appendix II to this Memorandum
4	Decision), a note balance of $3,344,727, through February, 2002, which includes an agreed credit of $338,572,
5	this court further reduces the note balance by the $5,853 difference, to $3,338,874, as of February 28, 2002.
6
7 8	C. Mansfield Collins' Legal Representation
9	Allegations proliferated during this intense litigation concerning whether Mansfield Collins was 10	guilty of professional negligence, or stated another way, did he commit legal materice?) Also raised is the
11	question of whether he breached his contract for legal services
12	In connection with these issues, in addition to the body of general facts and chronology, the court
13	heard from expert witnesses Marc X. Carlos, Gregory L. Ogden, and Boyd Lemon. (See, also, Ex. 149, 150.)
14
15	1. Who were Collins' clients?
16
17	Mr. Collins is a California attorney, who has been licensed to practice since 1981. In February,
18	1998, he was asked to accompany Piskulich on her first visit to the San Bernardino jail, where he met Flavio
19	and Aurelio Tenorio.
20	The evidence is clear that Collins was asked to represent Flavio Tenorio in early February,
21	1998, for the limited purpose of reviewing legal files in the office of attorney Ezekiel Cortez. The engagement
22	was to determine the "status of any pending actions, criminal, or tax issues regarding Flavio and Aurelio Tenorio.
23	(Ex. 1.) For these services, Flavio Tenorio agreed to pay a fee of $3,000. (Ex. 1.) There was no dispute
24	involving either that representation or that fee.
25
26
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 36

Shortly thereafter, Piskulich hired Collins to represent Aurelio Tenorio in the Arizona criminal 1 2 case. He agreed to perform this task, through a jury trial, for $10,000. This agreement was in writing (Ex. 4), 3 consistent with California's statute governing attorneys and the Rules of Professional Responsibility. On May 7, 1998, Collins wrote Allen Rabinowitz, an INS attorney, requesting, on a "special 4 appearance" basis, an administrative hearing for Flavio Tenorio (Ex. 6). There was no fee agreement letter 5 produced for this one-time event, nor is this item in dispute in this litigation. 6 On December 18, 1998, Collins also accepted a limited representation of Juan Tenorio, in a 7 civil immigration matter, and disclosed that a conflict of interest might surface if the administration of the 8 immigration case became entwined with Aurelio Tenorio's interests. (Ex. 26.)<sup>17</sup> Mr. Collins' representation in 9 that proceeding, or any fees paid, are not at issue here. 10 Finally, on March 7, 2002, Collins & Mesergan, LLP, agreed to represent Flavio in "all post-11 conviction matters arising out of the California and Arizona Kederal criminal cases ...." (Ex. 77.) No billing 12 statements were presented by Collins, or by Collins and Mesereau, LLP, for any such services, and evidence 13 concerning any alleged post-conviction representation was either too scant, or completely lacking, to support 14 any finding that fees were earned for any such post-conviction matters. Moreover, since the evidence in the 15 case showed that many of the various licensed restauranteurs began withholding license payments to Leasco in 16 March, 2002, it is unlikely that Collins did any legal work for Flavio thereafter, since by then he was also 17 Leasco's general counsel. 18 Thus, for the issues in this case, the court finds that only Aurelio Tenorio was Collins' client, and 19 20 only for the work involved in the criminal defense. 21 22 23 24 25 26 In that letter, Collins advised that his hourly rate was $200 per hour. 37 h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

2. The Transaction Involving the Sale of the Trademark: Was it Legal Malpractice?

By June, 1998, Collins had been working for Aurelio Tenorio on the Arizona criminal case for a few months.

5 But, while he represented Aurelio in the criminal matter, Collins also undertook the 6 representation of Piskulich and her newly formed company, Leasco, and prepared a Promissory Note and 7 assignment for the transfer of Aurelio's one-fourth interest in the Filiberto's trade name and trademark, along with 8 the interests of his brothers. Collins testified that, in this connection, he had never previously prepared a 9 promissory note, security agreement, or UCC-1 financing statement, and that he was 'not familiar' with what 10 an attorney's standard of care as to that type of endeavor would be.

11 At this stage of the proceedings, Collins owed a duty, as Aurelio's counsel, to inform him that 12 he needed separate counsel to advise him as to whether the documents that Collins had presented for his other 13 client, Leasco, was favorable or unfair to Aurelio, Collins did not do so.

As matters have turned out, and as would have been imprediately apparent to any commercial 14 lawyer, the note and assignment prepared by Collins were anything but favorable to Aurelio. The following list 15 describes several flaws in the documents, the lack of which fell below an attorney's applicable standard of care: 16 Although Aurelio was selling, on credit, something which had a value to him of 17 A. at least $625,000, plus interest over several years, the documents provided for 18 no retention of a security interest. Thus, should the buyer, Leasco (also Collins' 19 20 client) default, Aurelio would have no collateral to look to. He would be merely an unsecured creditor. This arrangement benefitted Leasco, but was a 21 22 major detriment to Aurelio;

The Promissory Note contained no acceleration clause. If the buyer was to default, as it did, all that Aurelio could do was sue for only the amount in arrears, not the entire debt. Again, Leasco benefitted; Aurelio did not;

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

B.

23

24

25

26

1

2

3

C. The note did not provide for the collection of attorneys' fees on default or suit. 1 California statutory law, unlike Arizona's statute, does not award fees in a 2 contract action to the prevailing party unless the contract expressly provides. 3 A competent attorney would have included such a provision. Failure to include 4 it has severely harmed Aurelio; and 5 D. The transaction did not take care to assure a reliable method of accounting for 6 any note payments, such as through a title company. This prission has caused 7 severe confusion and, ultimately, this litigation. That confusion and all of the 8 severely damaged Aureho Leasco/Piskulich accounting inaccuracies have 9 Tenorio. 10 11 These omissions were not only a breach of ethics, they were also incompetent and were, as a matter of law, 12 professional malpractice. As a result, Aurelio stands to lose a significant asset, and has incurred sizeable 13 unreimburseable legal bills in pursuing justice. 14 Focusing only upon Collins' representation of Aurelio related to the sale of the trademark asset, 15 the court concludes that Collins, whe was not an experienced commercial attorney, breached the professional 16 standard of care associated with that representation and that, as a result, Aurelio Tenorio has been economically 17 harmed. However, professional negligence (malpractice) actions in California carry a one-year statute of 18 limitations, which begins upon the discovery of the claimed malpractice. The statute also allows a tolling period 19 relating to when a party's reasonable diligence should have discovered the omission. CAL.CIV.P. § 340.6. 20 The cause of action here occurred, at the latest, when the parties acknowledge that the note and 21 assignment instruments were finally executed, October, 1998. 22 The first legal action involving the parties was filed on July 5, 2002. (See Collins' Post-Trial 23 Brief at 230.) However, by July 2001, the year before, as reflected by Ex. 124 (Appendix II), the payments 24 n the note had been erratic since the inception, and Piskulich had not provided a single reliable or professional 25 26

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1	accounting. <sup>18</sup> This was enough to have legally required Aurelio to question and investigate the legal effect of the
2	Collins'-prepared documents that he signed. Since Aurelio did not do so, his claim for professional negligence
3	is brought too late to state a claim for malpractice.
4	Aurelio Tenorio is, therefore, barred by the statute of limitations from bringing his claim under
5	this theory, and judgment on this issue shall be entered in favor of Collins. <sup>19</sup>
6
7	3. Breach of Contract: Did Collins Earn $494,614.11?
8
9	Aurelio also has maintained that Collins has breached his the agreement with hun, and has
10	overcharged for the legal work done in the criminal case. In California, an action for breach of a written contract
11	is subject to a four year statute of limitations. WEST'S ANN.CALC.C.R. § 327. This action for breach is within
12	this period. (See, e.g., Ex. 19, 21, 22.)
13	Also, all four Tenorio Brothers have contended that, to the extent that any portion of the
14	$494,614.11 charged by, or paid to Collins by Leasco was not authorized by them, that they were overcharged,
15	or that they were not the beneficiaries of any such legal work represented by the fee. They seek judgment so
16	declaring.
17	Collins has requested a judgment against the Tenorio Brothers for additional fees of
18	$226,213.77 (Collins' Post-Trial Brief). Collins acknowledges that he has already been paid, through Leasco
19	and charged to all four Tenorio Brothers, through October 26, 2001, the amount of $225,786.23 (Ex. 22).
20	However, Leasco's accounting, through April 2003, however, reflects payments to Collins of $268,400.34 (Ex.
21
22
23	<sup>18</sup> The first "accounting," such as it was, was presented by Piskulich at the Tijuana meeting in
24	October, 2001. (Ex.23, 33A.)
25	<sup>19</sup> Although extensive testimony was given regarding to whether Collins' actions were also
26	violations of his ethical duties as an attorney, this court can issue no legal relief based thereon. Those issues are properly left to the State Bar's disciplinary board.
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 40

Collins' prayer, against the Tenorio Brothers, is for the balance set forth in his last bill dated October 26, 2001 (Ex. 22) of $226,213.77. Collins does not reconcile the difference between Leasco's alleged accounting of payments to him of $268,400.34, and his acknowledged receipts of $225,786.23. (Compare Ex. 22 to Ex. 30.) The court finds, therefore, that the evidence supports a finding that Collins was paid $268,400.34 by Leasco.

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

25

26

a. Collins' Legal Responsibilities and Contracts With Clients

The California rules governing fees for professional services are neither complex nor irrational. In essence, they require, with limited exceptions that are not applicable to this case, written fee agreements and adequate disclosures. WEST'S ANN.CAL.BUS. & PROF. CODE § 6148.

For the almost one-half million dollars in legal fees which colline seeks, Collins produced only three billing statements, collectively containing only two (2) paragraphs of "itemization." (See Ex. 19, 21, 22.) Each bill will be discussed in chronological order.

Collins maintains that his representation and legal work involved not only Aurelio, the only Tenorio brother with whom he had a written fee agreement, but indeed all four Tenorio Brothers. Collins' representation in this regard is misplaced, because California law requires a written fee agreement with each client in each representation. Id. Even if the law did not require it, practice would. This simple rule is designed to eliminate the type of confusion which runs rampant in this litigation.

Thus, the court must review the only written billing statements, collectively covering March, 1998, through October 2001, as only a sould against Collins' only client at that time, Aurelio Tenorio. Although Collins' only written fee agreement was with Aurelio (Ex. 4), and Collins' only representation in the Arizona criminal case was on Aurelio's behalf, the court notes that each of the three bills are addressed to the other brothers as well:

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

	Date	Period	Addressed to	Amount	Ex.
	04/05/99	March 1998 - February 1999	Flavio Tenorio; Aurelio Tenorio	$ 40,875.00	19
	02/04/00	May 1998 - January 2000	Flavio Tenorio; Aurelio Tenorio; Filiberto Tenorio; Francisco Tenorio	241,500.00	21
	10/26/01	February 2000 - October 2001	Flavio Tenorio; Francisco Tenorio; Aurelio Tenorio; Filiberto Tenorio	226,213.77	22
The	e last billing (Ex. 2	22) reflects payments rece	ived and credited of $2257	86,83. This billing	also includes th
unp	aid balance of \$4	0,875 from the April 5, 1	1999 (Ex. 19) statement.		$\mathcal{I}$
	Collin	ns' proof supporting hov	w these billings were cald	wated and prepar	ed was sketchy inad	ccurate, confused,	and evasive. In reality, it	t is clear from the totality of	the evidence that Co	ollins and his live in g	irlfriend, Piskulich	n, without proper account	ings supporting an earned	professional fee, a	nd without regar for	for their professional and fiduciary responsibilities, merely invaded a ready cash source which rightly belonged to t	to the Tenorio Brothers, and converted it to their own use.
	As noted repeatedly above, the first legal issue that this court must decide is, who did Collins rep	resent in the crimin	nalproceedings. The answ	ver to that question is an eas	y oneAurelio Ten	orio. Collins on app	appeared on Aurelio's behalf before Judge McNamer (Ex. 71), and Collins' only relevant fee agreement was with	h Aurelio (Ex. 4).	Thus, the court finds and	teoncludes that Collins' thr	ee statements for le	gal services we not,	not, and are not, an obligation of Flavio, Francisco, and Filiberto Tenorio, each of whom had separate counsel for the criminal proceeding.
for		Next, the court must address whether Aurelio is responsible for any billings by Collins in excess for	Next	, the court my st address v	whether Aurelio is responsib	le for any billings by	Collins in exces
	$\wedge  \backslash  \checkmark \subset$	, the court mu st address v agreed to in the retaine	-	le for any billings by	Collins in exces
	he $10,000 flat fe	agreed to in the retaine	-
OFT	he $10,000 flat fe	e agreed to in the retaine is regard, the court looks	er letter. (Ex. 4.)	h Ex. 4 is not signed	by Aurelio, the of	he $10,000 flat fe In thi s no dispute over	agreed to in the retaine is regard, the court looks whether he agreed to it,	r letter. (Ex. 4.) to the letter itself. Although	h Ex. 4 is not signed e $10,000 fee agre	by Aurelio, the ed upon (Ex. 4 competent evidence that Aurelio agreed to pay more than the $10,000. The fee agreement provides, "Should additional fees be necessary, both parties agree to decide in good faith, the required amount." (Ex. 4, p. 2, subparagraph (3).) No convincing evidence supported Collins' entitlement to an additional mutually agreedupon fee.

Ш

The $10,000 fee agreement letter was drafted by Collins. He produced no credible evidence that Aurelio agreed to bind himself to almost half a million dollars more in additional legal fees. Collins, who wrote the retainer letter, as a licensed attorney, knew how to memorialize any agreement for additional fees, and, indeed, was required to do so by statute. The California Business and Professions Code requires no less. CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 6148.

The court also finds that the billing statements are wholly inadequate to support the fees claimed. 10 Collins was charging on an hourly rate of between $150 and $200 per hour. To lump $40 hours, 600 hours, and 60 hours (a total of 1500 hours) into a mere two paragraphs is inexcusable and upprofessional. Collins kept no time sheets and produced none at trial; his billings were not produced contemporaneously with the work done, but were "reconstructed" after years of delax; the so-called "itensized" bills that were produced were so inadequate as to be wholly worthless; and human memory cannot produce accurate, professional accountings 15 over such extended periods. Also the court finds Collins' statement that his bills were reproduced from handwritten notes to be not credible, since any backup files, notes, or correspondence was not produced at trial. Shocking too is the gratuitous addition of a 15% "bonus" of $31,500 for the "exceptional results" This was neither provided for by the retainer agreement, nor was there any obtained in the criminal case. evidence that Aurelio agreed to it to evidence was presented that the other criminal defense attorneys, who same results for their clients, charged "bonuses" to their clients. also got the ordingly, the Sourt finds and concludes that Collins is entitled to a single fee, the one agreed £$10,00Q--from Aurelio.

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

11

12

13

14

16

17

18

19 20 21

22

23

24

25

The court also finds and concludes that the costs set forth in the April 5, 1999 and October 26, 2001 bills were similarly unsupported by backup data or persuasive testimony, and were merely guessed at in conveniently round numbers. (See Ex. 19, 22.)

For the reasons stated above, Collins did not prove that his clients were the four Tenorio Brothers, and his billing statements are essentially worthless to justify either a contractual basis for their payment, or any equitable reason therefor. Collins wholly failed to document his legal work for, or his alleged representation of the Tenorio Brothers. Any payments received, other than the $10,000 earned for representing Aurelio, were gross overpayments, unjustified by the alleged effort involved, and paid with no contractual basis therefor.

b. Conclusion

Accordingly, of the $268,400.34 paid to Collins by Leasco on Aurelio's behalf, the court shall enter judgment in favor of Aurelio and the four Tenorio Brothers, jointly and severally, for the amount overpaid, $258,400.34. The court will also enter judgment that Collins' request for an additional $226,213.77 against Aurelio Tenorio or the four Tenorio Brothers is unreasonable, excessive, not properly itemized or earned, and not within the terms of the written contract. Collins' claims for $226,213.77 against Aurelio Tenorio and/or the four Tenorio Brothers shall be dismissed, with prejudice.

19 20

21

25

26

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

D. The Promissory Note - What Amount is Now Due?

The court has determined that Leasco, Inc., is the absolute owner of the "Filiberto's" trademark and trade name, as well as the proprietary goodwill associated with that name. Therefore, Leasco is required to pay for that assigned mark, pursuant to the Promissory Note dated September, 1998 (Ex. 16).

1. Tortious Interference With Contractual Relations

1

2 The testimony and other evidence established that the payments from the individual operators 3 began to slow or dry up between March 1 through June 30, 2002. (See, e.g., Ex. 46.) Thereafter, the license 4 fees dwindled to a trickle. It was these payments that enabled Leasco to have the capital to pay its own 5 operations and to generate sufficient cash flow to pay the Tenorio Brothers the $25,000 monthly payments, plus 6 interest, due them under the $2.5 million Promissory Note. 7 The individual payments under the license agreement slowed or stopped due directly to the 8 tortious interference of the four Tenorio Brothers, acting through their agents, Juan Tenorio, and Flavio Tenorio, 9 who counseled, advised, or coerced the Filiberto's network operators into doing their bidding. In so doing, their 10 actions had a direct and adverse impact on Leasco's ability to function and 11 to make the monthly payments due under the note. By March, 2002, the criminal case had been concluded 12 for over two years. While the Tenorio Brothers certainly had good reason to question Piskulich's payments to 13 others (especially to Mansfield Collins) and her judgment in crediting wage payments as note payments, their 14 remedy was to sue for an accounting, not to interfere with Leasco's contracts. 15 The Tenorio Brothers' interference occurred within the State of Arizona. In Arizona, the 16 elements of the tort of intentional interference with contractual relations are: 17 1. the existence of valid contractual relationship or business 18 expectancy; 19 knowledge of the relationship or expectancy on the part of the 20 interferor; 21 intentional interference inducing or causing a breach or 22 termination of the relationship or expectancy; and 23 4. esultant damage to the party whose relationship or 24 expectancy has been disrupted. 25 26 45 h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

Antwerp Diamond Exch. of Am. v. Better Bus. Bureau of Maricopa County, 130 Ariz. 523, 530, 637 P.2d 733, 740 (1981) (quoting Calbom v. Knudtzon, 65 Wash. 2d 157, 162-63, 396 P.2d 148, 153-54 (1964)).
All of these elements were proven by Leasco against the four Tenorio Brothers.

Accordingly, to the extent that the Tenorio Brothers are seeking an accounting of what is due under the Promissory Note, the court finds and concludes that Leasco's damages, attributable to their wrongful actions, should be that the Tenorio Brothers receive no interest on the $2.5 millionPromissory Note from March 1, 2002 to date of judgment herein. Thus, as of the date of judgment, the balance would be $3,338,874 (Appendix II to this Memorandum Decision, as adjusted by Section IV.B.4.)

2. Other Adjustments

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

As noted in Section IV.B.4.(e) of this Memorandum Decision, the court has established that Leasco did make payments of $344,426 on the Promissory Note.

To find the current balance due, the court finds that the reconstituted accounting of the Tenorio Brothers is accepted as the most accurate. Attached as Appendix I to this decision is the proper calculation and amortization of how the note should have paid out, according to its terms. (Ex. 124(B).)

However, because of the sequence of events and problems stemming from both Piskulich's improper use of funds, and her inaccurate and deplotable accounting methods, or lack thereof, and the interference by the Tenorio Brothers which resulted in cutting off Leasco's cash flow, that ideal amortization schedule has been significantly attered.

From the evidence, the court finds and concludes that the reconstructed accounting, prepared by expert witness Brian P. Brinig a law school graduate, appraiser, and certified public accountant should be accepted, with modifications to be described hereafter, as the appropriate accounting on Leasco's September, 1998, Promissory Note.

25 26 Under Mr. Brinig's accounting, attached to this Memorandum Decision as Appendix II (and as 26 will be further adjusted by the court), the court concludes that the Promissory Note should be accounted for,

1	as to both principal and interest, as set forth in Exhibit 124, attached hereto as Appendix II. Under that
2	accounting, the balance due on the note, as of February 28, 2002, would be $3,344,727, less the $5,853
3	adjustment, for a balance due of $3,338,874.
4	Because of the Tenorio Brothers' interference with Leasco's contracts, from March 1, 2002,
5	forward, the Tenorio Brothers should suffer damages equal to all interest payments which accrued from March
6	1, 2002, until date of judgment. <sup>20</sup> Thus, the adjusted balance, as of February 28, 2002, and indeed as of date
7	of judgment, is $3,338,874. This sum represents the starting note balance as of the date of judgment.
8	But this figure does not end the inquiry. Although the court has found that Leasco did not make
9	each contractual payment of principal and interest as called for by the Promissory Note, the note itself does not
10	contain an acceleration clause. The court now examines the impact of this omission from the Tenorio Brothers'
11	enforcement rights. The law is clear that:
12	Instruments payable at a fixed time may provide that if an installment of interest
13	or principal is not paid when due, the holder may declare the whole debt due, thereby accelerating repayment of the obligation. There can be no acceleration
14	of the amount due on commercial paper in the absence of an express provision authorization acceleration. In the absence of an acceleration clause providing
15	for the entire amount of a note to be due on default of any one installment, the promise is entitled to recover only past due installments, plus accumulated
16	interest, and cannot unilaterally declare the note to be accelerated. However, the acceleration clause need not be contained in the instrument itself; it may be included instead in an accument accented contained with the
17	included instead in an agreement executed contemporaneously with the instrument.
18	See, generally, AM. JUR. Bills and Notes § 194; Rickel v. Energy Sys. Holdings, Ltd., 114 Idaho 585, 759
19
20	P.2d 876 (1998); Shuey v. Hardinon, 142 Mont. 83, 381 P.2d 482 (1963) (in absence of agreement or atotation and that affact another solution and a contract could not be accelerated)
21	statutory provision to that effect, maturity of debt under contract could not be accelerated).
22	The note contains to acceleration clause. A note without such a remedy hampers a creditor's
23	rights However, because a court cannot re-make a contract for the parties, Wyandotte Orchards, Inc. v.
24	Oroville, Wyandotte Try. Dist., 49 Cal. App. 3d 981, 987, 123 Cal. Rptr. 135 (1975), citing Addiego v. Hill,
25	238 Cal. App. 2d 842, 846, 48 CalRptr. 240 (1965); Hinckley v. Bechtel Corp. , 41 Cal. App. 3d 206, 211,
26	The interest calculation on that time period is $987,551 (Ex. 124, Appendix II).
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 47

116 Cal. Rptr. 33 (1974) ("[c]ourts cannot make for the parties better agreements than they themselves made or rewrite contracts because they operate harshly or inequitably as to one of the parties[.]"), the parties must be content, in the event of a default, with suing only for the past amounts then due.

Thus, because the September, 1998, Promissory Note is incapable of unilateral acceleration, the Tenorio Brothers may only be granted an enforceable judgment for the amounts due them as of the date of judgment. Applying the accepted accounting of Ex. 124 (Appendix II), the court finds and concludes that the judgment, while declaring the balance due of $3,344.727 (adjusted downward by $5,853 to $5,338,874), may only be immediately enforced to collect what amounts are due as of the date of judgment.

The accounting reveals the following immediately enforceable amounts (Ex. 124)

			$\sim \Lambda$
Year	Principal Amount Unpaid	Interest Unpaid	Cumulative Arrearage
1998	18,582	101,260	119,842
1999	150,151	311,627	461,778
2000	214,678	334,528	549,206
20001	278,992	369,969	648,961
2002	299,025	65,914 <sup>21</sup>	364,939
2003	300,000	0.00	300,000
2004	300,000	> 0.00	300,000
2005	Up to date of judgment	0.00	0.00
Totals	$1,561,428	$1,183,298	$2,744,726

From the date of judgment forward, assuming that there will be no further interference with contractual relations, interest shall resume on the amount of $3,338,874.

<sup>25</sup>
 <sup>21</sup> Interest from March 1, 2002 to date of judgment has been forfeited by the Tenorio Brothers
 <sup>26</sup> For their wrengful interference with Leasco's contractual relations. This figure only represents January and February, 2002.

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

Thus, judgment will be entered for the Tenorio Brothers finding that the balance still due them 1 under the Promissory Note, to date of judgment is $3,338,874. However, the amount that can be collected 2 upon at this time is only the amount required to bring the note payments current, or $2,744,726. The court 3 further directs, as a part of this judgment, that a collection escrow account shall be established at First American 4 Title Company, to administer all further monthly payments and credits henceforth. Piskulich shall be divested 5 of all of the accounting functions, and her agency is hereby terminated. Escrow fees and costs shall be divided 6 equally between the parties. 7 The judgment of the court will further provide that the first monthly payment due under the 8 Promissory Note shall commence on the first day of the month following the entry of the judgment kerein, and 9 each monthly payment due thereafter shall be due on the first day of each month, consistent with the note's 10 terms. Each monthly payment shall include principal and interest payments, 11 Since the only truly valuable asset of Lease is the trademark and all proprietary goodwill, this 12 court, utilizing its equitable powers under bankrupter law, will enjoin Leasco from transferring or encumbering 13 that asset until the Tenorio Brothers' note is paid in full, in cash, or unless a plan of reorganization is confirmed 14 which is determined to fairly and equitably treat the Tenorio Brothers in a different fashion. 15 Thus, the court finds that the only equitable way to achieve a just equilibrium under the 16 Promissory Note is to enter judgment that: 17 The balance due to the Tenoro Brothers on the date of entry of judgment is 1. 18 $3,338,874:23 19 Interest that accrue thereon at 12% simple interest per annum as the note 20 provides; 21 The amount immediately in default, and necessary to be paid in order to 22 reinstate the note, as of the date of judgment, is $2,744,726. That figure shall 23 be increased by any principal payments not made in 2005; 24 25 The Tenorio Brothers have not cross-claimed against one another for a determination as to 26 what is owed to each brother. Thus, the court finds only the amount due under the note. 49 h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

4. Any future monthly payment, after judgment, which is not timely made, shall 1 also bear interest at 12% per annum, consistent with the terms of the 2 Promissory Note; 3 5. Because the note does not contain an acceleration clause, any action to enforce 4 it may only be for the amounts now due thereon, $2,744,726, plus any 2005 5 principal payments remaining unpaid as of the date of judgment; execution may 6 issue upon any such judgment, subject to bankruptcy intervention; 7 6. Leasco shall be, and is hereby, enjoined from transferring, encumbering, dr 8 selling its "Filiberto's" trademark, or proprietary rights, designs, logos, mends, 9 recipes, and operational handbooks unless and until the obligation represented 10 by the Promissory Note is paid in full, in cash. At such time, this injunction shall 11 terminate without further order of the court; 12 7. The parties shall establish a collection escrow at First American Title 13 Company, Phoenix, Arizona, to collect and account for all payments and 14 interest accruals due under the Rromissory Note. The opening balance shall be 15 $3,338,874. Escrow fees shall be equally divided between the parties to the 16 note (the Tenorio Brothers and Leasco); 17 The first payment shall be due on the first day of the month following entry of 8. 18 the judgment. Each payment shall consist of a $25,000 principal reduction, 19 plus accrued interest, and 20 9 This judgment may be altered by the terms of a confirmed plan of 21 reorganization. 22 23 24 25 26 50 h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1

2

3

4

5

6

V.

INJUNCTIVE RELIEF AGAINST "ROGUE" RESTAURANTS

Arizona Restaurants A.

Once the disputes between the parties escalated into full-scale war, several new and unauthorized "Filiberto's" restaurants were opened by relatives or associates of the Tenorio Brothers. Those restaurants are  $\frac{23}{2}$

	Owner	Location	$\overline{\langle}$	Ex.
	Santo Domingo and Co., Inc. #2	1845 E. Guadalupe Rd. Tempe, AZ	V 2 /	D-147 Q-147
	Santo Domingo & Co., Inc.	531 E. Southern Mesa, AZ		D-)47B
	Sergio Quintero & Company, Inc. <sup>24</sup>	6339 E. Mayn St. Mesa, AZ	$\bigvee$	D-150 D-150A D-169
	Jorge de la Torre, Inc.	530 E. Wickenburg Way Wickenberg, AZ	>	D-168
	Mancillas-Gutierrez	2750 E. Thomas Rd. Phoenix, AX		D-171
(See,	e.g., D-146, "License Agreement" bet	ween Juan Tenorio as "Licen	sor" and Ma	ria Francisca Gu	utie dated	July 31, 2003.)	$\searrow$
	None of these restaurants	vere licensed by Leasco, yet	each of the	m uses the trade	e n trade	nark, proprietary logos, menus, and op	<pre>// erations of the other properly li</pre>	censed "Filib	erto's" restauran	ıts.
23	White the sourt halisway this	list includes each of the upaut	horizod "Fil	ibarto's" restaura	ont

2 list includes each of the unauthorized "Filiberto's" restaurants, it the that the list may also inadvertently include an authorized location. If so, counsel for Leasco is 23 lirected to delete any such authorized owner/location from the form of judgment. 24

24 The court is unsure as to whether this operator is licensed. No license agreement was 25 admitted in evidence, but it appears from other documents to possibly be a licensed entity. (See Ex. 46, counsel should not include this entity in any judgment. The testimony did not appear to include 00)If sa 26 this restaurant.

ongoing unlawful use is an infringement of Leasco's "Filiberto's" property rights. Therefore, a mandatory and permanent injunction against said entities or individuals will be entered, which requires such restaurants to immediately cease and desist in the use of the "Filiberto's" name, goodwill, and methods of operation. Should they fail to cease and desist within thirty (30) days after entry of the judgment, contingent damages will accrue against them at the rate of $1,000 per day until such renegade restaurants comply with this court's order. 5

Leasco has proven, by a preponderance of the evidence, that these unauthorized restaurants 6 willfully and intentionally infringed upon the registered trademark, "Filiberto's," and the operational methods owned and utilized by Leasco. This series of infringements violated the federal Lankam Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1114, 8 et seq., causing confusion among the public and reaping benefit to the violators from the known trademark. See 9 Levi Strauss & Co. v. Blue Bell, Inc., 778 F.2d 1352, 1354 (9th Circ 1985); Fuddruckers, Inc. v. Doc's B.R. Others, Inc., 826 F. 2d 837 (9th Cir. 1987); 15 U.S.C. § 114

Monetary damages for such knowing violations is not difficult to establish. While it is clear that there was a knowing infringement of the "Filiberto's name, logo, and proprietary goodwill, there was scant evidence presented which directly links the reregade restaurants' income to the "Filiberto's" mark. In other words, evidence was lacking to establish, for example, that a patron hangry for Mexican fast food would choose to frequent a "Filiberto's" rather than another Mexican food competitor. This court takes judicial notice that in Arizona and Southern California the choices for such types of restaurants are numerous. As a consequence, the court is not inclined to award damages in the draconian amounts proposed by Leasco.

In reviewing the evidence, consisting of reports to the Arizona taxing authorities, related to the revenue generated by each of the trauthorized restaurants, the court finds gross revenues as follows:

2		7		Reported	Gross
	Owner	Location	Ex.	Months	Revenues <sup>25</sup>
3	Santo Domingo and	1845 E. Guadalupe Rd.	D-147	12	$ 953,847
₽/	Go. Inc. #2 )	Tempe, AZ	D-147A
s,    \	)/

The calculations of gross revenues have omitted, and not calculated, cents.

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1

2

3

4

7

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

Santo Domingo & Co., Inc.	531 E. Southern Mesa, AZ	D-147B	17	1,614,932
Sergio Quintero & Company, Inc.	6339 E. Main St. Mesa, AZ	D-150 D-150A D-169	43	6,559,409 <sup>26</sup>
Jorge de la Torre, Inc.	530 E. Wickenburg Way Wickenberg, AZ	D-168	2	169,019
Mancillas-Gutierrez	2750 E. Thomas Rd. Phoenix, AZ	D-171	9	323,570

8 From the foregoing, it is apparent that substantial gross revenues were generated by each of 9 these unauthorized restaurants. Measuring damages is thus an easy rack; had the restaurants been licensed, 10 Leasco would have been entitled to no less than 3% of the gross revenues. Therefore, as compensatory damage 11 for the infringement, each of the infringing restaurants shall pay Leasco damages equal to 3% of the figures set 12 forth above. Additionally, as further compensatory and punitive damages for the intentional and wrongful 13 appropriation of Leasco's name and practices, each unlicensed restaurant is hereby found to be liable for an 14 additional 2% of gross revenues in order to to compensate Leasco for its attorneys' fees and costs and to punish 15 each infringer. Such an additional award should be sufficient to adequately compensate Leasco for the wrongful 16 use of its name, marks, and operational methods, and for its fees and costs in pursuing this litigation. "The Ninth 17 Circuit has mandated awards of attorneys' fees where defendant has engaged in blatant acts of trademark 18 counterfeiting." Rolex Watch USA, Inc. v. Dauley, 1986 WL 12432 (N.D. Cal. 1986), citing Playboy 19 Enterprises, Inc. v. Baccarat Clothing, 693 F. 2d 1272 (9th Cir. 1982). See Levi Strauss & Co. v. Shilon, 20 121 F. 3d 1309, 13 N (9th Cir. 1997); PepsiCo, Inc. v. Triunfo-Mex, Inc., 189 F.R.D. 431 (C.D. Cal. 21 1999). See also Microsoft Corp. JU-Top Printing Corp., 1996 WL 479066 (N.D. Cal. 1996); New York 22 Inc. v. Stroup News Agency Corp., 920 F. Supp. 295 (N.D.N.Y. 1996). The court finds these Racing Ass'n. 23 Sque restaurants to have blatantly and knowingly violated Leasco's trademarked rights. 24 25 One of the months, February 2000, was illegible, and therefore no dollar amount was 26 included.

1

2

3

4

5

6

Thus, a judgment will be entered in favor of Leasco, and against each of the unlicensed restaurants as follows:

Owner	Gross Revenues	3% Compensatory	2% Additional Compensatory/ Punitive	Total
Santo Domingo and Co., Inc. #2	$ 953,847	$ 28,615	$ 19,077	$ 47,69
Santo Domingo & Co., Inc.	1,614,932	48,448	32,299	80,74
Sergio Quintero & Company, Inc.	6,559,409	196,782	131,188	327,97
Jorge de la Torre, Inc.	169,019	5,074	3,380	8,451
Mancillas-Gutierrez	323,570	9,707	6,471	16,178
	$ 9,620,777	$ 288,623	$ 192,415	$ 481,03

The court declines to award damages, as Lease requests, against "all the members of the Tenorio family" on the flimsy evidence that they "make decisions collectively." Only those restauranteurs that were proven to have actually infringed and counterfeited the mark should be held accountable for their actions, not others who merely happened to also be members of the extended family.

Additionally each of the foregoing intringing restaurants shall cease and desist in the use of the Filiberto's mark, operational handbooks, logos, prenus, and recipes within thirty (30) days of entry of judgment. Should such parties refuse to do so, then a continuing, contingent judgment shall run from the 31st day after judgment at $1,000 per day, per restaurant, until the violations cease. The court will also entertain contempt sanctions if this judgment is not followed.

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

1

B. California Restaurants

2 The evidence shows that there are five existing "Filiberto's" restaurants in California. None of 3 these restaurants have ever paid licensing fees to Leasco, and have never signed licensing agreements with 4 Leasco. (See Ex. 46.) 5 Jorge ("George") Tenorio testified credibly that Leasco provides no services to or for these 6 California restaurants, and that Leasco has never made demand upon them to cease using the name Filiberto's." 7 These restaurants appear to have been left out of the main loop and to have been 8 "grandfathered" in, not subject to the requirements which Leasco has inprosed on the Arizona stores. 9 Mansfield Collins testified that these restaurants had agreed to "verbal licensing agreements." 10 The court finds this testimony both unbelievable and incredible. Lease produced not a single document to 11 show it had ever asserted its trademark rights against any of those entities. And because Leasco was careful 12 to document licenses with at least sixteen Arizona stores, the comment that Leasco had "verbal licensing 13 agreements" with the California restaurants is simply ludicrous. 14 While there was evidence of possible infringement by the California restaurants, no damage 15 figures were presented by Leasco. Any litigation over the use of the "Filiberto's" trademark in California must 16 be left to another day. At this moment, any claims against the California stores for infringement or damages, up 17 to the date of judgment, will be DISMISSED, with prejudice.<sup>27</sup> 18 19 VI. OTHER LEGAL THEORIES PRESENTED BY THE PARTIES 20

21

22 23

24

ithin

25 26 The court is skeptical as to whether any of the California restaurants were even served or are parties to this litigation.

 $h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec$

The

parties have paised numerous other legal issues and theories, many of which are included or rejected by the rulings set forth above. To the extent that the court has failed to address any such theory, it is because the court has determined that the parties are deserving of the legal relief set forth herein, and none other. These judgments are determined to be fair, adequate, and equitable to all concerned.

Thus, to the extent that issues, including but not limited to, undue influence, fraud, misrepresentation, failure of consideration, alter ego, and illegal "franchise" were raised, the court finds that the evidence does not justify either additional findings or judgments.

VII. SUMMARY OF RULING

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

22

23

24

25

26

To summarize, the judgment of the court shall be:

A. Leasco, Inc. is the owner of the "Filibertors" trademark, trade name, and all of the accompanying goodwill associated therewith.

Juan Tenorio does not own the partne or the trademark or any portion of "Filiberto's." B. 12 C. The balance due to the Tenorio Brothers under the Promissory Note, to date of 13 judgment is $3,338,874. This judgment may only be immediately enforced to collect what amounts are due as 14 of the date of judgment in the sum of $2,744,726, through 2004, plus any 2005 principal payments not paid up 15 to the date of judgment, subject to the application of bankruptcy law principles. From the date of judgment 16 forward, assuming that there will be no further interference with contractual relations, interest shall resume on 17 the amount of $3,338,874. 18

D. A collection escrow account shall be established at First American Title Company, to administer all further monthly payments and credits henceforth. Escrow fees and costs shall be divided equally between the parties, 50% Leasco and 50% Tenorio Brothers.

E. Ivania Pistulich's agency is terminated.

The first monthly payment due under the Promissory Note shall commence on the first day of the month following the entry of the judgment herein, and each monthly payment due thereafter shall be

h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec

due on the first day of each month, consistent with the note's terms. Each monthly payment shall include principal and interest payments.

G. Each individual operator which or who has not terminated its license agreement to Leasco is declared to be contractually liable to Leasco for these contractual percentages proven to be in arrears.
 Further hearings will establish the amounts.

H. To the extent that Piskulich claims that she is still owed $269,763.50 in addition to what she has already collected through Leasco, for a total of $339,967.50, the court finds and concludes that Piskulich has breached her Agency Agreement, that she is to be be paid nothing for her agency, and that she is owed nothing more.

10

11

12

1

2

The four Tenorio Brothers shall have judgment against wania Piskukich for $70,204.50. Collins is entitled to a single fee of $10,000 from Aurelio Tenorio, and has been paid in full.

I.

J.

K. Aurelio Tenorio and the four Tenorio Brothers shall have judgment, jointly and severally, against Mansfield Collins for $258,400.34. The court will also enter judgment that Collins' request for an additional $226,213.77 against Aurelio Tenorio or the Cenorio Brothers is unreasonable, excessive, not properly itemized and not within the contract of the parties. Collins' claims for $226,213.77 against Aurelio Tenorio or the four Tenorio Brothers shall be dismissed, with prejudice.

L. The four Tenorio Brothers for Yously interfered with Leasco's contracts, and therefore, shall forfeit all interest earned on the September, 1998, Leasco Promissory Note from March 1, 2002 to date of judgment. Thereafter, interest shall resume at the note rate.

21

22 23

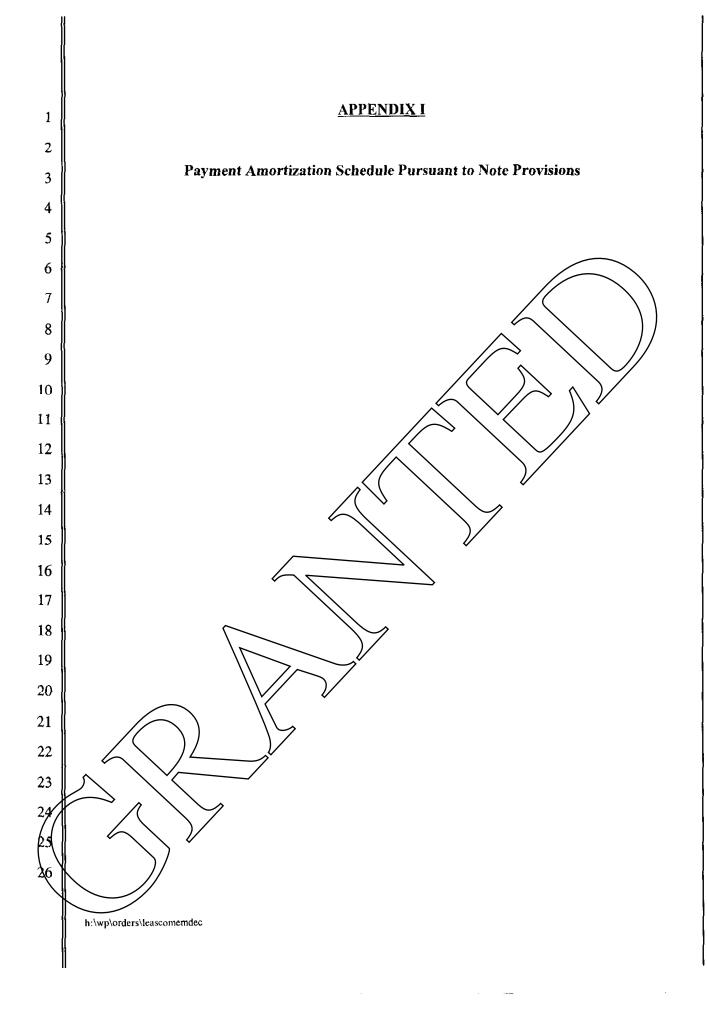

24

25

1
1	COPIES served as indicated below this 18th day of January, 2005, upon:
2	John J. Dawson, Booker T. Evans,
3	Gerald L. Shelley and Sean D. Johnson
4	Quarles & Brady Streich Lang LLP Two North Central Avenue
	Phoenix, AZ 85004-2391 Email jdawson@quarles.com bevans@quarles.com
5	gshelley@quarles.com sjohnson@quarles.com
6	Special Counsel for Leasco
7	Philip G. Mitchell and Craig J. Bolton
8	Jennings Haug & Cunningham LLP 2800 North Central Avenue, Suite 1800
	Phoenix, AZ 85004-1049 Email pgm@jhc-law.com cjb@jhc-law.com
9	Attorneys for Leasco, Inc.
10	J. Philip Glasscock
11	J. Philip Glasscock, P.C.
12	13430 North Scottsdale Road, Suite 106 Scottsdale, AZ 85254
	Email JPG@azbar.org Attorneys for Ivania Piskulich and Mansfield Collins
13
14	Todd M. Sloan, Fletcher W. Paddison, and Malte L. Farnaes Ross, Dixon & Bell LLP
15	550 West "B" Street, Suite 400 San Diego, CA 92101-3599
16	Email tsloan@rdblaw.com fpaddisor@rdblaw.com mfarnaes@rdblaw.com
	Attorneys for Filiberto, Juan, Francisco, and Aurelio Tenorio
17	Richard J. Grant
18	Grant & Morasse, APC 619 South Vulcan Avenue, Surite 101
19	Encinitas, CA 92024
20	Email rjgrant@ricochet.com Attorneys for Flavio Tenorio
	J. Henk Taylor
21	Lewis and Roca LLP / / / / / / / / / / / / / / / / / /
22	Phoenix, AZ 85004-4429
23	Email hts@lrlaw_com Attorneys for Flavio, Filiberto, Francisco and Aurelio Tenorio
24
25 26
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 59

1	Jeffrey Weiss, Mark Weiss and Karen J. Sepura Weiss, Moy & Harris, PC
2	4204 North Brown Avenue Scottsdale, AZ 85251
3	Email jweiss@weissiplaw.com mweiss@weissiplaw.com ksepura@weissiplaw.com Attorneys for Juan and Araceli Tenorio; Santa Domingo & Company,
4	Inc.; Raul and Martha Rios; Jorge, Adelaida, Sergio, and Ana Elizabeth Tenorio; and Jorge and Irma Quintero
5	Office of the United States Trustee
6	230 North First Avenue, Suite 204 Phoenix, AZ 85003-1706 U.S. Mail
7
8 9	By /s/ M.B. Thompson Judicial Assistant
10	Judicial Assistant
11
12
13 14
15
16
17
18 19 20 21
22
23
24
25	$\langle \rangle$
26
	h:\wp\orders\leascomemdec 60

Loan Amortization Schedule

Maximum Monthly Payment Equals Terms of Promissory Note

September-98         1         S. 2,500,00         S. 25,000         S. 2,500,00         S. 2,475,000           November-98         2         2,475,000         25,000         24,750         49,750         2,450,000           November-98         3         2,450,000         25,000         24,500         49,550         2,450,000           January-90         5         2,400,000         25,000         24,620         49,250         2,450,000           January-90         5         2,400,000         25,000         24,000         24,750         49,250         2,351,000           January-90         5         2,400,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         27,500         2,25,000         27,500         2,25,000         25,000         27,500         2,25,000         27,500         2,25,000         27,500         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000         2,25,000	Month	Beginning Month Payment ≠ Principal		Required Principal	12.0% Interest	Monthly Payment	Ending Balance
October-98         2         2.475,000         25,000         24,750         49,750         2.450,000           November-98         3         2.450,000         25,000         24,200         49,250         2.420,000           Subroul         109,000         26,000         24,220         49,220         2.400,000           Subroul         109,000         98,500         198,500         2.5,000         2.5,000           January-99         5         2.400,000         25,000         2.5,750         18,760         2.3,51,000           Moreh-99         6         2.575,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         22,000         48,200         2,20,000         22,000         47,50         2,125,000         22,000         47,50         2,125,000         22,000         2,000         47,50         2,125,000         22,000         2,125,000         22,000         2,125,000         2,125,000         2,125,000         2,125,000         2,125,000         2,125,000         2,125,000         2,125,000
November-93         3         2.450,000         25,000         24,250         49,500         2.425,000           December-93         4         2.425,000         26,000         24,220         49,220         2,400,000           Subrotal         100,000         25,000         24,220         49,220         2,400,000           Subrotal         100,000         25,000         24,000         49,000         2,375,000           Mar-ho9         7         2,380,000         25,000         23,270         48,200         2,275,000           Mar-ho9         7         2,380,000         25,000         23,200         48,000         2,750,000           July-99         8         2,325,000         25,000         22,600         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         22,600         25,000         25,000         25,000         22,00,000         25,000         22,000         25,000         22,000,00         22,000         22,220,000         22,000,00         22,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000         22,220,000	September-98	1	$ 2,500,000	$ 25,000	$ 25,000	$ 50,000	5 2,475,000
December-98         4         1.4.22,000         15.000         24.229         49.230         2.400.000           Subtetal         109.000         98.500         198.500         2.400,000         2.5000         2.375,000           March-99         6         2.375,009         25.000         23.500         48.50         2.350,000           March-99         7         2.350,000         25.000         23.500         48.25         2.350,000           June-99         8         2.325,000         25.000<	October-98	2	2,475,000	25,000	24,750	49,750	2.450,000
Subtoral         100.000         98.500         198.500           January-99         5         2.400.000         25.000         24.000         90.000         2.375.000           Mareh-99         6         2.375.000         25.000         23.750         48.500         2.375.000           Mareh-99         7         2.380.000         25.000         23.500         48.500         2.375.000           May-99         9         2.300.000         25.000         23.200         48.000         .75.000           July-99         10         2.275.000         21.050         65.500         2.125.000         25.000         21.050         65.500         2.125.000         25.000         21.500         46.250         2.100.000           September-99         16         2.125.000         25.000         21.250         46.250         2.100.000         25.000         21.550         45.500         2.125.000         12.50         45.500         2.05	November-98	3	2,450,000	25,000	24,500	49,500	2,425,000
$ \begin{array}{c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c $	December-98	4	2.425,000	25.000	24,250	49.230	2,400,000
February-99         6         2,375,000         25,000         23,750         18,50         2,350,000           Marth-90         7         2,360,000         25,000         25,000         23,200         48,000         2,350,000           May-99         8         2,325,000         25,000         23,260         48,000         2,360,000           June-99         10         2,375,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000           Juny-99         11         2,230,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         21,000         22,225,000         21,000	Subtotal			100.000	98,500	198-500
February-99         6         2,375,000         25,000         23,750         18,850         2,359,000           Marth-90         7         2,350,000         25,000         23,324         48,200         2,396,000           May-99         9         2,300,000         25,000         23,324         48,200         2,300,000           June-99         10         2,275,000         25,000         22,500         47,500         2,235,000           August-99         11         2,230,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         47,500         2,230,000           August-99         12         2,230,000         25,000         22,500         47,250         2,235,000           September-99         13         2,200,000         25,000         21,500         45,500         2,157,000           October-99         14         2,175,000         25,000         21,500         46,250         2,100,000           Subtotal         00,000         25,000         21,500         45,250         2,150,000           March-00         19         2,025,000         25,000         25,000         25,000         2,000,000         1,975,000           June-00         21         2,000,000         25,000 </td <td>January-99</td> <td>5</td> <td>2,400,000</td> <td>25,000</td> <td>24,000</td> <td>9.000</td> <td>2.375.000</td>	January-99	5	2,400,000	25,000	24,000	9.000	2.375.000
Marth-90         7         2.350,000         25,000         23,250         45,00         2.327,000           April-99         8         2.325,000         25,000         23,250         48,250         2,750,000           May-99         9         2.200,000         25,000         22,000         48,200         275,000           July-99         11         2.250,000         25,000         25,000         47,500         2.225,000           August-99         12         2.225,000         25,000         25,000         27,000         47,500         2.220,000           September-99         13         2.200,000         25,000         21,750         47,550         2.150,000           October-99         14         2,175,000         25,000         21,500         46,250         2.100,000           December-99         16         2,125,000         25,000         21,500         46,250         2.000,000           Subtotal         00,000         21,500         45,500         2.025,000         25,000         20,500         45,500         2.025,000           Mark-00         19         2,052,000         25,000         20,500         45,500         2.025,000         1.975,000           January-00	-				23,750	48, 50	2.35p,doo
April-99         $         2.325,000         25.000         23.237         48.20         2.500/000           May-99         9         2.300,000         25.000         22.500         48.000         275.00           June-99         10         2.275,000         25.000         25.000         25.000         48.000         475.000           August-99         12         2.225,000         25.000         25.000         47.500         2.225,000           September-99         13         2.200,000         25.000         22.000         47.500         2.175,000           October-99         14         2.175,000         25.000         21.500         21.55.000         21.50.000           December-99         15         2.150,000         25.000         21.500         46.250         2.100,000           Subtotal         100,000         25.000         21.000         46.000         2.075.000           March-00         19         2.05000         25.000         25.000         45.250         2.000.000           March-00         19         2.05000         25.000         20.500         45.250         2.000.000           June-00         21         2.000,000         25.000         12.50	•				23.500 /	48,500	2.375,000
May-99         9         2.300,000         25.000         23.00         48.000         475.000           June-99         10         2.275,000         25.000         25.000         25.000         25.000         22.50         17.57         1.250,000           August-99         11         2.250,000         25.000         22.00         20.000         22.00,000         22.250,000         22.00         22.00,000         22.250,000         22.00         20.0000         22.000,000         22.00         20.000         22.00,000         22.00,000         22.00,000         22.000,000         22.00,000         22.00,000         22.00,000         22.00,000         22.00,000         22.00,000         22.00,000         22.00,000         21.00,000         21.00,000         21.00,000         21.00,000         21.00,000         21.50,000         21.00,000         21.00,000         21.00,000         20.075.000         21.00,000         20.075.000         20.000         20.000         20.075.000         20.075.000         20.000         20.075.000         20.075.000         20.075.000         20.000         20.075.000         20.000         20.000         20.000         20.000         20.000         20.000         20.000         20.000         20.000         20.000         20.000 <t< td=""><td>April-99</td><td>8</td><td></td><td></td><td></td><td><math>\rightarrow</math> 48.25Q</td><td>2.300,000</td></t<>	April-99	8				$\rightarrow$ 48.25Q	2.300,000
June-99         10         2.275,000         21,050         47,250         2,225,000         21,00,000         25,000         21,00         47,250         2,150,000         21,00,000         21,000         21,150,000         21,00,000         21,000         21,00,000         21,00,000         21,00,000         21,00,000         20,000         21,00,000         20,000         20,000         21,00,000         20,000	•				23,000	48.000	75.000
					2250	7,758	2,250,000
August-99         12         2.225,000         25,000         22.80         47.250         2.200,000           September-99         13         2.200,000         25,000         21,000         47,000         21,50,000           November-99         14         2,175,000         25,000         21,500         46,500         2.125,000           December-99         16         2,125,000         25,000         21,500         46,250         2.100,000           Subtotal         100,000         21,500         46,250         2.100,000         21,500           January-00         17         2,100,000         25,000         20,750         45,750         2,050,000           March-00         19         2,075,000         25,000         20,750         45,250         2,000,000           March-00         20         2,050,000         25,000         20,500         45,250         2,000,000           March-00         21         2,000,000         25,000         20,000         45,000         1,975,000           June-00         22         1,975,000         25,000         19,750         44,750         1,950,000           June-00         22         1,975,000         25,000         19,750         44,5						47,500
September-99         13         2.200.000         25,000         22,000         47,000         2,175,000           October-99         14         2,175,000         25,000         21,750         6,750         2,150,000           November-99         15         2,150,000         25,000         21,250         46,250         2,100,000           Subtotal         20,000         11,300         571,500         2,075,000         2,075,000           January-00         17         2,100,000         25,000         26,000         46,250         2,100,000           March-00         19         2,05,000         25,000         26,000         45,500         2,025,000           March-00         19         2,05,000         25,000         20,500         45,250         2,000,000           March-00         20         2,025,000         25,000         20,000         45,000         1,975,000           June-00         21         2,000,000         25,000         20,000         45,000         1,975,000           June-00         22         1,975,000         25,000         19,750         44,750         1,950,000           June-00         25         1,900,000         25,000         19,750         43,750					22.00	47.25$	2.200,000
October-99         14         2,175,000         25.007         21.750         67.50         2.150,000           November-99         15         2,150,000         25.000         21.500         65.500         2.125,000           December-99         16         2,125,000         25.000         21.250         46.250         2,100,000           Subtotal         00,000         21.500         46.250         2,100,000         20.750         45,750         2,050,000           January-00         17         2,100,000         25.000         20.750         45,750         2,050,000           March-00         19         2,050,000         25,000         20.500         45,200         2.025,000           March-00         19         2,050,000         25,000         20.500         45,250         2.000,000           March-00         21         2,050,000         25,000         20.500         45,250         2.000,000           June-00         21         2,050,000         25,000         20.500         45,250         2.000,000           June-00         22         1,950,000         25,000         19,750         44,750         1,950,000           June-00         25         1,900,000         25,000					22,000	47,900	2,175,000
November-99         15         2,150,000         25,000         21,500         46,500         2,125,000           December-99         16         2,125,000         21,000         21,250         46,250         2,100,000           Subtotal         100,000         21,500         571,500         21,000         2,075,000           January-00         17         2,100,000         25,000         21,000         46,000         2,075,000           March-00         19         2,052,000         25,000         20,500         45,530         2,020,000           April-00         20         2,025,000         25,000         20,500         45,530         2,020,000           March-00         19         2,005,000         25,000         20,500         45,530         2,020,000           May-00         21         2,000,000         25,000         19,750         44,750         1,950,000           June-00         22         1,975,000         25,000         19,250         44,250         1,900,000           August-00         23         1,750,000         25,000         19,250         44,250         1,900,000           September-00         25         1,900,000         25,000         18,750         43,	•				21,750	6,150	2,150,000
December-99         16         2.125,000         21.250         46.250         2.100,000           Subtotal         00,000         11.509         571,500         571,500           January-00         17         2.100,000         25.000         24.000         46.000         2.075,000           March-00         19         2.056.000         25.000         20.750         45.750         2.050,000           March-00         19         2.025.000         25.000         20.250         45.250         2.000,000           March-00         21         2.000,000         25.000         20.000         45.000         1.975.000           June-00         22         1.975.000         25.000         20.000         44.500         1.925.000           July-00         23         1.550.000         25.000         19.500         44.250         1.950.000           August-00         24         795.000         25.000         19.000         44.000         1.875.000           September-00         25         1.950.000         25.000         18.000         43.500         1.850.000           November-00         27         1.800.000         25.000         18.250         43.250         1.750.000 <t< td=""><td></td><td></td><td></td><td>25/00</td><td>21,500</td><td>A6.500</td><td>2,125,000</td></t<>				25/00	21,500	A6.500	2,125,000
$\begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$				\$5.000	$\mathbf{i}$	46,250	2,100,000
February-0018 $2.075,000$ $25,000$ $20,750$ $45,750$ $2.050,000$ March-0019 $2.056,000$ $25,000$ $20,500$ $45,500$ $2.025,000$ April-0020 $2.025,000$ $25,000$ $20,250$ $45,250$ $2.000,000$ May-0021 $2.000,000$ $25,000$ $20,000$ $45,000$ $1.975,000$ June-0022 $1.975,000$ $25,000$ $19,750$ $44,750$ $1.950,000$ July-0023 $1.950,000$ $25,000$ $19,750$ $44,750$ $1.990,000$ August-0024 $1.952,000$ $25,000$ $19,250$ $44,250$ $1.900,000$ September-0025 $900,000$ $25,000$ $19,000$ $44,000$ $1.875,000$ October-0026 $875,000$ $25,000$ $18,500$ $43,500$ $1.825,000$ November-0027 $1.860,000$ $25,000$ $18,500$ $43,250$ $1.800,000$ Subtotal29 $1.300,000$ $25,000$ $18,000$ $42,750$ $1.750,000$ May-0131 $1.750,000$ $25,000$ $17,250$ $42,250$ $1.700,000$ May-0134 $1.675,000$ $25,000$ $17,000$ $42,250$ $1.700,000$ May-0135 $1.650,000$ $25,000$ $17,000$ $42,250$ $1.750,000$ May-0136 $1.625,000$ $25,000$ $16,500$ $41,250$ $1.650,000$ May-0136 $1.625,000$ $25,000$ $16,250$ $41,250$ $1.600,000$ <td>Subtotal</td> <td></td> <td></td> <td>300,000</td> <td>251.509</td> <td>571,500</td> <td></td>	Subtotal			300,000	251.509	571,500
February-0018 $2.075,000$ $25,000$ $20,750$ $45,750$ $2.050,000$ March-0019 $2.056,000$ $25,000$ $20,500$ $45,500$ $2.025,000$ April-0020 $2.025,000$ $25,000$ $20,250$ $45,250$ $2.000,000$ May-0021 $2.000,000$ $25,000$ $20,000$ $45,000$ $1.975,000$ June-0022 $1.975,000$ $25,000$ $19,750$ $44,750$ $1.950,000$ July-0023 $1.950,000$ $25,000$ $19,750$ $44,750$ $1.990,000$ August-0024 $1.952,000$ $25,000$ $19,250$ $44,250$ $1.900,000$ September-0025 $900,000$ $25,000$ $19,000$ $44,000$ $1.875,000$ October-0026 $875,000$ $25,000$ $18,500$ $43,500$ $1.825,000$ November-0027 $1.860,000$ $25,000$ $18,500$ $43,250$ $1.800,000$ Subtotal29 $1.300,000$ $25,000$ $18,000$ $42,750$ $1.750,000$ May-0131 $1.750,000$ $25,000$ $17,250$ $42,250$ $1.700,000$ May-0134 $1.675,000$ $25,000$ $17,000$ $42,250$ $1.700,000$ May-0135 $1.650,000$ $25,000$ $17,000$ $42,250$ $1.750,000$ May-0136 $1.625,000$ $25,000$ $16,500$ $41,250$ $1.650,000$ May-0136 $1.625,000$ $25,000$ $16,250$ $41,250$ $1.600,000$ <td>Tanuary-00</td> <td>17</td> <td>2 100 000</td> <td>25000</td> <td>21000</td> <td>46,000</td> <td>2,075,000</td>	Tanuary-00	17	2 100 000	25000	21000	46,000	2,075,000
$\begin{array}{c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c $	-
$\begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$
$\begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$
$\begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$	•			$\mathbf{X}$
$\begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$	-
August-00241,925,00019,25044,2501,900,000September-0025,900,00025,00019,00044,0001,875,000October-0026.875,00025,00018,75043,7501,850,000November-00271,820,00025,00018,50043,2501,825,000December-00201,320,00025,00018,25043,2501,800,000Subtotal300,00025,00018,00043,0001,775,000Subtotal291,800,00025,00017,75042,7501,750,000March-01311,750,00025,00017,50042,5001,725,000March-01311,725,00025,00017,25042,2501,700,000May-01331,700,00025,00017,00042,0001,675,000June-01341,675,00025,00016,50041,7501,650,000June-01361,625,00025,00016,50041,2501,600,000June-01361,625,00025,00016,50041,2501,600,000
September-00         25         900.00         25,000         19,000         44,000         1,875,000           October-00         26         1875,000         25,000         18,750         43,750         1,850,000           November-00         27         1,800,000         25,000         18,500         43,500         1,825,000           December-00         21         1,325,000         25,000         18,250         43,250         1,800,000           Subtotal         300,000         25,000         18,000         43,000         1,775,000           January 01         29         1,800,000         25,000         18,000         43,000         1,775,000           March-01         31         1,775,000         25,000         17,750         42,750         1,750,000           March-01         31         1,750,000         25,000         17,250         42,250         1,700,000           March-01         31         1,750,000         25,000         17,250         42,250         1,700,000           March-01         32         1,650,000         25,000         17,000         42,000         1,675,000           May-01         33         1,700,000         25,000         17,000         42,000
$\begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$
November-00         27         1870,000         25,000         18,500         43,500         1,825,000           December-00         20         1,325,000         25,000         18,250         43,250         1,800,000           Subtotal         300,000         235,500         535,500         535,500         1,775,000           January 01         29         1,800,000         25,000         18,000         43,000         1,775,000           March-01         31         1,750,000         25,000         17,750         42,750         1,750,000           March-01         31         1,725,000         25,000         17,250         42,250         1,700,000           May-01         35         1,700,000         25,000         17,000         42,000         1.675,000           June-01         34         1,675,000         25,000         16,750         41,750         1.650,000           July-01         35         1,650,000         25,000         16,500         41,250         1,600,000           August-0         36         1,625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000
December-00         21         1.328.000         25.000         18.250         43.250         1.800,000           Subtotal         300,000         235.500         535.500         1,800,000         1,775,000         1,775,000         1,775,000         1,775,000         1,775,000         1,775,000         1,775,000         1,775,000         1,750,000         1,775,000         1,750,000         1,750,000         1,750,000         1,725,000         1,725,000         1,725,000         1,725,000         1,725,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,750,000         1,700,000         1,725,000         1,700,000         1,750,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,650,000         1,650,000         1,650,000         1,650,000         1,625,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000         1,600,000				U
January 01         29         1.800,000         25,000         18,000         43,000         1,775,000           February 01         0         1.775,000         25,000         17,750         42,750         1,750,000           March-01         31         1,750,000         25,000         17,500         42,500         1,725,000           April-01         30         1,725,000         25,000         17,250         42,250         1,700,000           May-01         32         1,700,000         25,000         17,000         42,000         1.675,000           June-01         34         1,675,000         25,000         16,750         41,750         1.650,000           July-01         35         1,650,000         25,000         16,500         41,500         1,625,000           August-01         36         1,625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000			11
February 0         0         1.775,000         23,000         17,750         42,750         1.750,000           March-01         31         1.750,000         25,000         17,500         42,500         1,725,000           April-01         30         1.725,000         25,000         17,250         42,250         1,700,000           May-01         35         1.700,000         25,000         17,000         42,000         1.675,000           June-01         34         1.675,000         25,000         16,750         41,750         1.650,000           July-01         35         1.650,000         25,000         16,500         41,250         1,600,000           August-01         36         1.625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000	Subtotal	$\langle \rangle$		300,000	235,500	535,500
February 0         1.775,000         25,000         17,750         42,750         1.750,000           March-01         31         1,750,000         25,000         17,500         42,500         1,725,000           April-01         31         1,725,000         25,000         17,250         42,250         1,700,000           May-01         33         1,700,000         25,000         17,000         42,000         1.675,000           June-01         34         1,675,000         25,000         16,750         41,750         1.650,000           July-01         35         1,650,000         25,000         16,500         41,500         1.625,000           August-01         36         1,625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000	Januar 01	$\overline{)}$	1.800.000	25.000	18,000	43,000	1,775,000
March-01         31         1,750,000         25,000         17,500         42,500         1,725,000           April-01         30         1,725,000         25,000         17,250         42,250         1,700,000           May-01         33         1,700,000         25,000         17,000         42,000         1.675,000           June-01         34         1,675,000         25,000         16,750         41,750         1.650,000           July-01         35         1,650,000         25,000         16,500         41,500         1.625,000           August-01         36         1,625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000		$\sim$					1,750,000
April-01         30         1.725,000         25,000         17,250         42,250         1.700,000           May-01         53         1.700,000         25,000         17,000         42,000         1.675,000           June-01         34         1,675,000         25,000         16,750         41,750         1.650,000           July-01         35         1,650,000         25,000         16,500         41,500         1.625,000           August-01         36         1.625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000		$\Lambda$ $\backslash_{31}$	^				1,725,000
May-01         33         1.700,000         25,000         17,000         42,000         1.675,000           June-01         34         1,675,000         25,000         16,750         41,750         1,650,000           July-01         35         1,650,000         25,000         16,500         41,500         1,625,000           August-01         36         1,625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000							1,700,000
June-01         34         1,675,000         25,000         16,750         41,750         1,650,000           July-01         35         1,650,000         25,000         16,500         41,500         1,625,000           August-01         36         1,625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000		$\backslash \backslash $
July-01         35         1,650,000         25,000         16,500         41,500         1,625,000           August-01         36         1,625,000         25,000         16,250         41,250         1,600,000		$\left( \begin{array}{c} \\ \\ \\ \end{array} \right) \left( \begin{array}{c} \\ \\ \\ \\ \\ \\ \end{array} \right)$
August-01 36 1.625,000 25,000 16,250 41,250 1,600,000
	$\sim$

-----

. .....

_____

. ....

Loan Amortization Schedule

Maximum Monthly Payment Equals Terms of Promissory Note

Month	Pavment ≓	Beginning Principal	Required Principal	12.0% Interest	Monthly Payment	Ending Balance
October-01	38	1,575,000	25,000	15,750	40.750	1,550,000
November-01	39	1.550,000	25,000	15.500	40,500	1,525,000
December-01	40	1,525,000	25,000	15.250	40.250	1,500,000
Subtotal			300,000	199,500	499,500
January-02	41	1,500,000	25,000	15,000	40,000	474,000
February-02	41	1,475,000	25,000	14,750	$9,750	1,450,000
March-02	43	1,450,000	25,000	14.500	39,500	1, 23,000
April-02	44	1,425,000	25,000	14.220	38,250	1,400,000
May-02	45	1,400,000	25.000	1,200	39,080	$75.000
June-02	46	1,375.000	25,000	15.750	38,750	1,350,000
July 02	47	1,350,000	25,000	500	38, (0 )	1,325,000
August-02	48	1.325,000	25,000	13.250	38,250	1,300,000
September-02	49	1,300,000	25.000	13,000	38,000	1,275,000
October-0?	50	1,275,000	25,090	12.750	1/50	1,250,000
November-02	51	1,250,000	25,000	12,500	37,500	1,225,000
December-02	52	1.225,000	27.000	12.250	37.250	1,200,000
Subtotal			300,000	183.500	463,500
(		1 200 000		2.000	37,000	1,175,000
January-03 Roberts - 02	53	1,200,000	25,000	11,750	36,750	1,175,000
February-03	54	1,175,000		11,500	36,500	1,125,000
March-03	55	1,150,000	25,000		36,250
April-03	56	1.125,000	25,000	> 11,250		1,100,000
May-03	57	1,100.000	25.000	11.000	36,000	1,075.000
June-03	58	1,075,000	25.000	10.750	35,750	1,050,000
July-03	59 🤇	1,050,000	22,000	10,500	35,500	1,025,000
August-03	60	1,030,000	) 25,000	10.250	35,250	1,000,000
September-03	61	1.000,000	25,000	10,000	35,000	975,000
October-03	62	975,000	25,000	9.750	34,750	950,000
November-03	63	920,000	25,000	9,500	34,500	925,000
December-03	64	925,000	25,000	9,250	34,250	900,000
Subtotal	$\left( \right)$	$\mathbf{Y}$	300,000	127,500	427,500
January-04	65	900,000	25,000	9,000	34.000	875,000
February-04	66	875.000	25.000	8,750	33,750	850,000
March 04	$\sqrt{67}$	850,000	25.000	8.500	33,500	825,000
April-04	$\langle \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ \ $	825,000	25,000	8,250	33,250	800,000
Maynu	$\searrow$	800,000	25,000	8,000	33,000	775,000
June-04		775,000	25,000	7,750	32,750	750,000
Juiy-04	$\sum \int \frac{1}{71}$	750.000	25,000	7.500	32,500	725,000
August-04	// 72	725,000	25,000	7,250	32,250	700.000
September-04	73	700,000	25,000	7,000	32,000	675,000

_

. . .__

· ... .....

Loan Amortization Schedule

Maximum Monthly Payment Equals Terms of Promissory Note

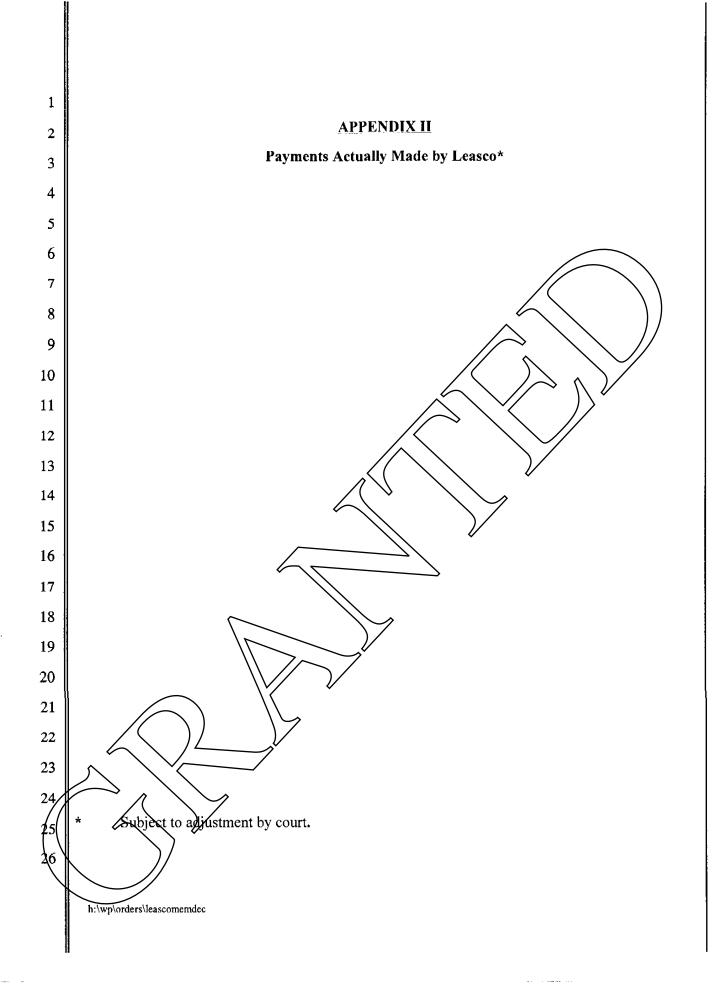

Month	Payment #	Beginning Principal	Required Principal	12.0%	Monthly Payment	Ending Balance
November-04	75	650,000	25.000	6,500	31,500	625.000
December-04	76	625,000	25.000	6,250	31.250	600.000
Subtotal			300,000	91,500	391,500	$\frown$
January-05	77	600.000	25,000	6.000	31,000	575.000
February-05	78	575,000	25,000	5,750	30.( 50	550,000
March-05	79	550.000	25,000	5,500	30.580	525, 0 00
April-05	80	525,000	25,000	5,250	× 30.250	500,0þ0/
May-05	81	500,000	25,000	5,000	30.000	475,000
June-05	S2	475,000	25,000	4,750	29.750	450,000
July-05	83	450,000	25,000	4. JO B	28.500	425,000
August-05	84	425,000	25.000	1,250	29350 1	)/400,000
September-05	85	400,000	25,000	1,000	29,000	375,000
October-05	86	375.000	25,000	750	× 28,750//	350,000
November-05	87	350.000	25,000	3.500	28.500	325,000
December-05	88	325,000	25.000	3,250	28.70	300,000
Subtotal			300.000	55,500	555,500
January-06	89	300,000	5.800	3,000	2$,000	275,000
February-06	90	275,000	25.000	2 75)	27,750	250,000
March-06	91	250,000	25,000	2.500	27.500	225,000
April-06	92	225,000	25,000	2.250	27.250	200,000
May-06	93	200,000	25,000	2,000	27,000	175,000
June-06	94	175,000	25,000	1,750	26,750	150,000
July-06	95	150,000	25,000	1,500	26,500	125,000
August-06	96	(-125,000)	23,000	1,250	26,250	100,000
September-06	90 97	100,000	25 000	1.000	26,000	75,000
October-06	98	75,000	2,000	750	25,750	50,000
November-06	93 99	50,000	25,000	500	25,500	25,000
December-06	100	25,000	25,000	250	25.250	-
Subtotal	3:33	Years	300,000	19,500	319,500	-
. /	$\langle \rangle $					••
	$\langle \setminus \rangle$ $\sum$ $\square$ $\sim$

Э

- -

_ ...

.

Schedule IA - Analysis of Note Balance Due - Scenario I

Based on Defendants claimed payments (Exhibit 30) less amounts disputed by Tenorio Family

Month	Payment #	Beginning Principal			Ending Balance
September-98	I	$ 2,500,000	$ -	S 25,000	$ 2,525,000
, October-98	2	2,525,000	-	25,250	2.550.250
November-98	3	2,550.250	25.000	25.503	2,550,753
December-98	4	2,550,753	56.418	25.708	2.519.8-12
Subtotal			81,418	101,260
January-99	5	2,519,842	3.437	26,198	2,547,603
February-99	6	2.541.603	31.595		2,535,423
March-99	7	2,535,423	3.045	25.354	2,557,765
April-99	8	2,557,765	$\land$	25,578	2.583,342
May-99	9	2,583,342	20.530	23,833	2,588,645
June-99	10	2,588,645	11.050	25,886	2.603,482
July-99	11	2,603,482	×00×	20,035	2,624,517
August-99	12	2,624,517	1 5.9N	26,245	2,644,845
September-99	13	2.644,84	27.159	26,448	2,644,134
October-99	14	2,644,134	15,000	) 26,441	2,655.576
November-99	15	2.655.576	18.602	26,556	2,663.530
December-99	16	2.663.530	8,545	26.635	2,681,620
Subtotal			149.849	311,627
January-00	17 5	2,681,620	8,500	26,816	2,699,936
February-00	18	2699,936	7,563	26,999	2,719,373
March-00	19	119,383	16,013	27,194	2,730,554
April-00	20	2,730,554	6.234	27,306	2,751,626
May-00	21	2,751.626	9,000	27,516	2,770,142
June-00	)22	2770.142	1,500	27,701	2,796,344
July-20	$\left  \right  \frac{1}{23}$	2,796.344	8.001	27,963	2,816,306 -
August-00	24	2.816,306	10.088	28,163	2,834,381
September 00	25	2,834,381	4,628	28,344	2,858,097
ctober-00	7 \ \257	2.858.097	-	28,581	2,886,678
November-08		2.886.678	7.796	28,867	2,907,748
December-00		2,907,748	6.000	29.077	2,930,826
Subtotal	)/		85.322	334.528
#623209 v1	-				1

---- ....

٠.

Schedule IA - Analysis of Note Balance Due - Scenario I

Based on Defendants claimed payments (Exhibit 30) less amounts disputed by Tenorio Family

Month	Pavment #	Beginning Principal	Payments	12.0% Interest	Ending Balance
		·
January-01	29	2,930,826		29.308
February-01	- - - 9 30		9.325	29.60	2,960,134
March-01	30 3 E	2,960.134 2,980,410	9.5-5	29.804	3,010,215
April-01	32		3.436	20,004	3.036.880
May-01	33	3,010.215	6,268	30,369	3,050,98
June-01	33 34	3,036.880	0,208	30,309	3.091.591
July-01	35	3,060.981	47	30.010	3.1-2.460
•	36	3.091,591	47		5,153,684
August-01		3,122,460	-6	21.537	3,185,221
September-01 October-01	37	3,153.684	$\bigtriangleup$	31,852
	38	3.185,221	1.790	21,852	3,217,073
November-01	39	3.217.073	1.790	32.0	3,247,454
December-01	40	3.247,454		 	3,279,787
Culturel
Subtotal		6	21.008	369,969
January-02	41	3.279,787	975	32,798	3,311,610
February-02	42	3,311,610	_ // - `	33,116	3,344,727
March-02	43	344 727	,/	33,447	3,378,174
April-02	44	3,378,174	 	33,782	3,411,956
May-02	45	3,411.956	-	34,120	3,446,075
June-02	46 6	3,446,075	 	34.461	3,480,536
July-02	47 \	3,480,536	)/ .	34,805	3,515,341
August-02	48	3,341	-	35,153	3,550,495
September-02	49	5,550,495	-	35.505	3,586,000
October-02	50	3,586,000	-	35,860	3,621,860
November-02	51	3,621,860	-	36.219	3,658,078
December-02/	)52	3,658,078	-	36,581	3,694,659
			~ ~
Subtotal		$\Box$	975	415,846
January-03		3,694,659		36,947	3,731,606
Hebruary-02	$\langle \rangle \rangle$	3.731.606	-	37.316	3,768,922
March-03	55	3.768.922	-	37,689	3,806,611
April-03	56	3,806,611	_	38.066	3,844,677
April-03	57	3,844,677	-	38.447	3,883,124
		5,077		20.117	3,003,1 2 .
#623209 v1	-				2

· · · - _

----

Schedule IA - Analysis of Note Balance Due - Scenario I

Based on Defendants claimed payments (Exhibit 30) less amounts disputed by Tenorio Family

Month	Payment #	Beginning Principal	Payments	12.0% Interest	Ending Balance
I (22	• •
June-03	58	3,883.124	-	38.831	3.921.955
July-03	59	3.921.955	-	39,220	3.961.174
August-03	60	3,961,174	-	39.612	4.000.786
September-03	61	4,000,786	-	40,008	4,040,794
October-03	62	4,040.794	-	40, 408	4.08 .202
November-03	63	4.081,202	-	40,812	4,122,014
December-03	64	4,122,014		41.220	4,165/234
Subtotal				408 \$ 75	$\bigvee$
January-04	65	4,163.234	$\land$	41,632	4,204,866
February-04	66	4.204.866		12.049	4,246,915
March-04	67	4.246,915	$\wedge$	42,489	4,289,384
April-04	68	4,289,384		2,894	4,332,278
	• • • •	$\sim$		· 🗸 · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
			5 338,57	$2.170,850
#623209+1	/				3

: